Council Increases Size Of City Police Department

Circleville City Council as a result of the 40-hour work week for the police department enacted two ordinances Tuesday approved by city voters at the General Election Nov. 4.

One of the ordinances repealed a 41-hour work week schedule. That schedule was approved by the city legislators at the last meeting. However, since the 40-hour week became effective today, the council members believed it necessary to remove the ordinance from the records.

Council also approved legislation increasing the size of the force to 13 patrolmen, four sergeants and the chief. The additional personnel is needed by the department to arrange a work schedule so that each shift will be fully manned.

Both ordinances received unanimous approval of council. The city fathers also approved an ordinance authorizing the safety director, Robert Adkins, to advertise for bids for gasoline for the police and fire departments for 1970.

A RESOLUTION approving the tax rates set by the budget commission for the city was approved.

A resolution of cooperation with the proposed Pickaway - Circleville Metropolitan Housing Authority was held for a third reading by council. The housing authority has not yet been created.

Also held to a third reading was an ordinance authorizing the board of public utilities to extend water and sewer service beyond the city limits and establishing rates for the service.

The ordinance, if approved, would set a fee of $75 for making a connection and inspection of the connection, or a fee of $25 for an inspection of a connection.

It also fixed the rate at three times that paid by residents of the city. Persons requesting sewer and water service beyond the city limits must pay for construction of the extension of the water and sewer lines.

A letter from Terry Sloan, president of the Circleville Youth Baseball Program, Inc., was read. Sloan outlined the need for improving the lighting facilities of the baseball diamonds at Ted Lewis Park.

THE letter estimated cost of relighting the diamonds at $8,000. Sloan asked the city council to consider making an appropriation of $3,000 earmarked for the purpose. The Circleville Youth Baseball Program would pledge $5,000 for improving the lighting system.

Sloan pointed out that in addition to approximately 500 youngsters who participate in summer baseball, the two diamonds are also used by over 200 adults in the slow pitch softball program.

A communication from Columbia Fuel Gas of Ohio was read announcing the .53 of a

Joint Party Marks Arms Talks Session

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — The U.S. and the Soviet ambassadors are giving a precedent-shattering joint party today during the one-day recess in the strategic arms limitation talks.

The reception being given by Ambassadors Val Peterson and A. E. Kovalev is the first in Helsinki—and diplomats believe the first anywhere—to be given jointly by Soviet and American ambassadors.

The idea—understood to have been proposed by Peterson and willingly seconded by his Soviet counterpart—was to stage a get-acquainted social for the disarmament delegations, their staffs and leaders of the Finnish government hosting the conference.

About 200 guests were invited to the reception at a restaurant-club neutrally located between the U.S. and Soviet embassies.

The two ambassadors drew up the invitation list—and agreed to split the cost $0-50.

The joint reception underscored the air of cordiality which has surrounded the negotiations since they first met Monday.

Conference sources said there have been no procedural disputes so far like the long argument in Paris last year over the shape of the table for the Vietnam peace talks.

A toss of the coin, for example, gave Soviet negotiator Vladimir S. Semenov first place in the speaking lineup at the ceremonial opening. The Russians readily agreed in turn to hold the first business session Tuesday at the U.S. Embassy, and the Americans agreed to hold the next session Thursday at the Soviet Embassy.

Whether this show of cooperation means the two superpowers will make any progress in the main aim of the talks—to slow down the nuclear arms race—remains to be seen.

The shortness of the first negotiating session—only 45 minutes of business time since half the 90-minute meeting was spent in translations—indicated neither side presented its position in detail.

The one-day layover presumably gave the envoys time to report home and get instructions. But under the agreement between the two sides not to disclose what is going on while the talks are under way, no information on the proceedings was made public.

Vote On Haynsworth Nears; Outlook Reported Brighter

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration forces, facing a Senate vote Friday on the Supreme Court nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr., have been buoyed by what one Republican leader calls "the way things are going."

Announcements Tuesday by two freshmen senators brightened the outlook for the Haynsworth backers.

The Senate's newest member, Republican Ralph T. Smith of Illinois, said he had changed his mind and will support Haynsworth.

Roundtown

SNOW and cold weather bring thoughts of ice skating and the Circleville Junior Women's Club has done something to make that sport possible for skaters and would-be skaters . . . A 40 x 90 foot skating rink will be placed on half of the tennis courts at Ted Lewis Park before Christmas . . . A great gift for the city . . . All parts are ready and will be placed by local Jaycee members as soon as the sturdy liner is delivered . . . City firemen have promised to fill the rink which will be donated to the city by the club.

FINAL plans for the 1969 Jaycee Santa Parade and Santa House are being completed . . . Jake Bailey is in charge of the Merchant Solicitation Committee . . .

The Jaycees need $734 for the project and parade this year and the funds will be secured through the merchants' donations . . .

Members of Bailey's committee are Terry Sloan, Robert Seranton, Jack Mader, Robert Sines, Larry Lewis, Richard Bircher and Steve Cherrington . . .

A calendar of days and hours of Santa's visits will be posted in each contributing merchant's window . . .

Arch Ward will be in charge of the parade which is scheduled 2 p.m. Nov. 28 . . . Last year 700 children visited Santa on the day of the parade and a larger turnout is expected this year . . .

The Jaycees, under the direction of Tom Howell, have been painting and rebuilding the exterior of the house.

THE weather potpourri continues in Roundtown . . . From a mild 62 degrees Tuesday, the thermometer will dip to the low 20s tonight . . .

Snow is predicted, with accumulations of from one to three inches . . . Conditions of one year ago were nearly duplicate of the present . . . There were snow flurries, a high of 38 and a low of 25 on Nov. 18, 1968 . . .

Travel warnings are out for the entire state . . . The snow accumulation in northeast Ohio is predicted at four inches.

worth, Sen. Mike Gravel, D-Alaska, said he too will vote for confirmation.

This came on the heels of word Monday from Sens. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., and William B. Spong, D-Va., that they would vote for Haynsworth.

Sen. Gordon Allott of Colorado, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, said "the way things are going" he expects more announcements backing Haynsworth before Friday's 1 p.m. vote.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield obtained agreement on the timing of the vote after Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., a leader of the opposition, withdrew a proposal for a showdown Thursday.

Smith's decision to vote for confirmation tipped the balance in an Associated Press survey to 41 senators supporting the nomination compared to 40 against. The other 19 remain publicly uncommitted.

Smith, who was appointed to the Senate to succeed the late GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen said last month that a "shadow had been cast" on Haynsworth's record as chief justice of the 4th U.S. Court of Appeals and he could not vote for confirmation.

But Smith said Tuesday that after careful study he is convinced conflict-of-interest charges against the South Carolina jurist were "based on half-truths and misrepresentations."

3 Bombs Blast Seattle Buildings; Police Puzzled

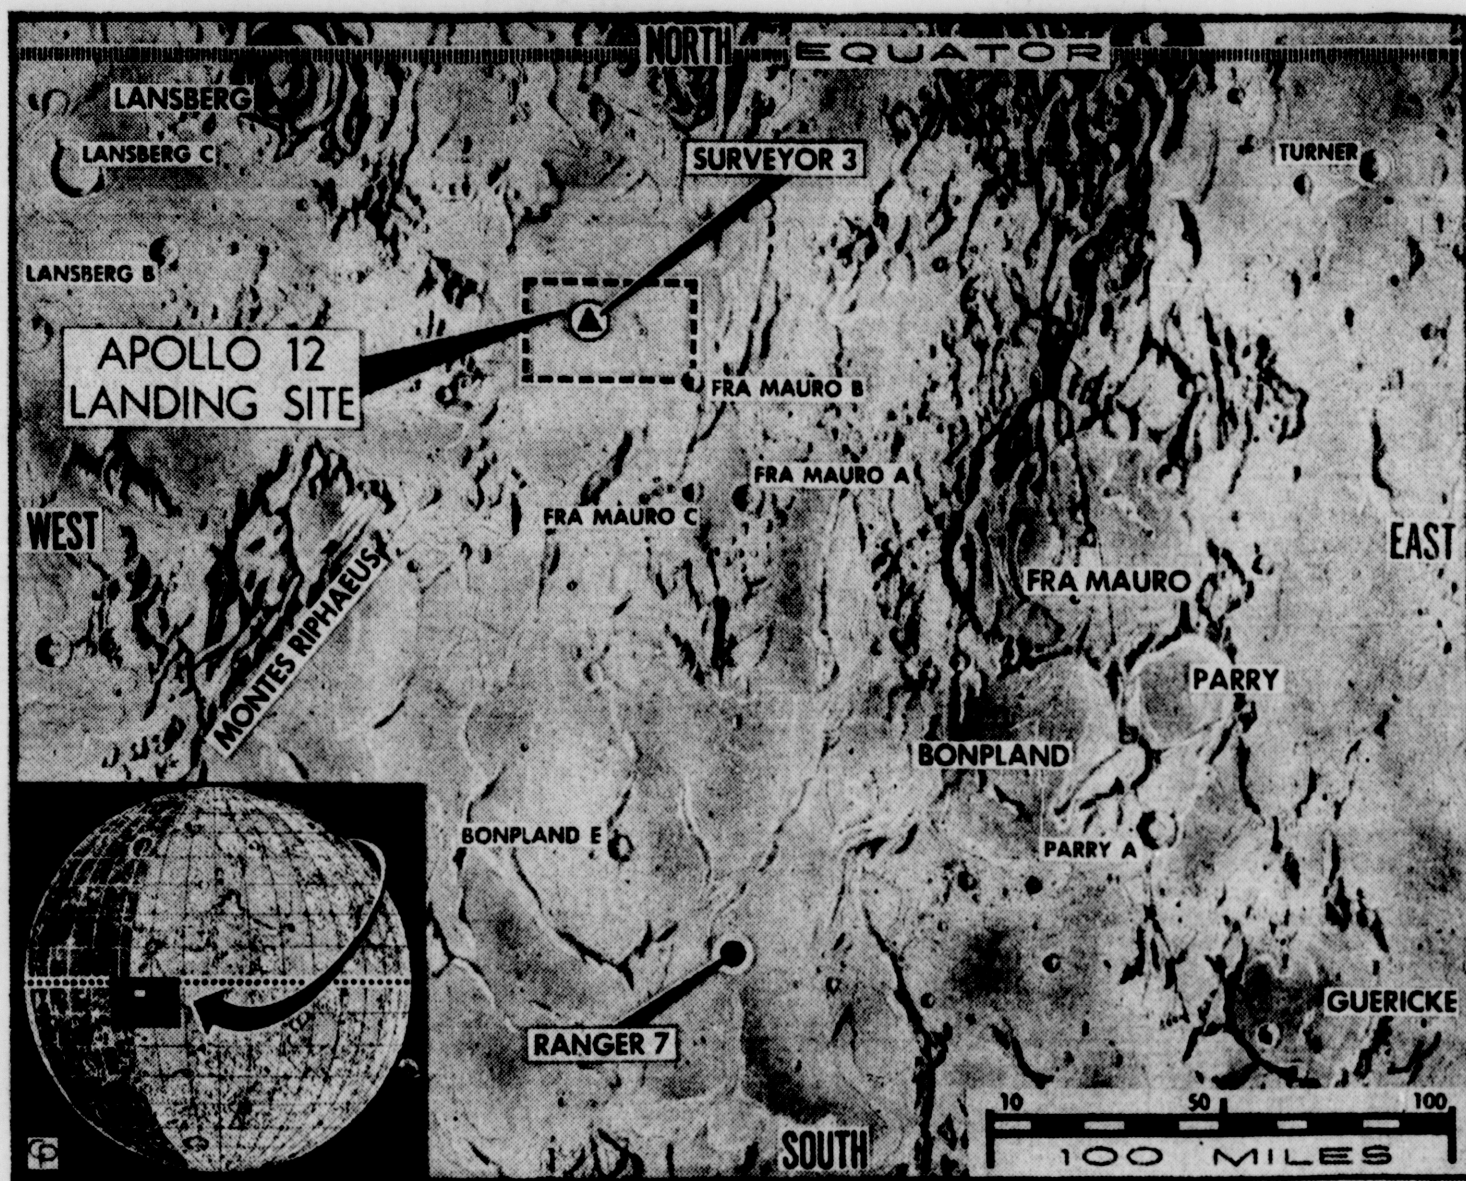

SEATTLE (AP) — Three bombs exploded in buildings in the Capitol Hill district of Seattle early today, causing an undetermined amount of damage and injuring one person.

The bombs exploded shortly after 3 a.m., within five minutes of one another, at the Summit branch of Seattle Community College, a Safeway store and Garfield High School. An unidentified workman at the Safeway store was hospitalized.

Police said no bomb threats had been received at any of the buildings. They said all three bombs were made from explosives, rather than incendiary materials.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A re-empt lawyer's battle with New York tax collectors over a spec of backyard land on Staten Island was transformed today in the Supreme Court into an ominous economic threat to organized religion.

Frederick Walz, an almost invisible lawyer who lives with a number of dogs and cats in a Bronx apartment, caused the high court to seriously consider for the first time whether the Constitution forbids states to ex-

ON TARGET — The Intrepid landed right on target at 1:53 a.m. today, just 600 feet from Surveyor 3. This topographical closeup of the landing site on the Moon runs 320 by 260 miles. The circle is six miles in diameter. Fra Mauro, a crater, was one of the descent guides. Other similarly named and smaller craters were also descent guides.

Fire 'Hero' Is Charged With Arson

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Robert Elliott, 26, hailed as a hero two weeks ago when fire broke out in the 12-story Hotel Keenan, was charged Tuesday with first-degree arson in the same fire.

Elliott, who lived in the hotel, was talking with the desk clerk when he said he smelled smoke and raced through three floors rousing hotel guests and leading the evacuation during the early morning fire Nov. 6.

Firemen credited Elliott with preventing a loss of life. More than 200 persons were led to safety.

Although 14 persons were treated after the fire, only one remained hospitalized today.

Detective Chief Richard Schmieding of the Fort Wayne Police Department said an inflammable liquid was used to start a fire on a couch on the hotel's second floor. Damage in the fire has not been estimated. Four floors sustained heavy damage.

Arabs Fire On Israelis

TEL AVIV (AP) — Arab gunmen in Jordan opened fire on Israeli forces near the traditional site of Christ's baptism Tuesday night, killing an Israeli corporal, the army said.

The Israelis returned the fire, military spokesmen said, but there was no report of any casualties inflicted on the attackers.

The exchange took place in the Qasr Yahud sector along the Jordan River north of the Dead Sea.

Farther north, Arab guerrillas fired across the Jordan at an Israeli patrol near Ashdot Yaacov south of the Sea of Galilee but there were no casualties, the Israelis said.

Guerrillas also fired a dozen mortar shells at Israeli forces in the occupied southern Golan Heights of Syria without causing damage.

Market Probe Continue Black

WASHINGTON (AP) — A billion-dollar currency manipulation racket with Indian money changers at the top and GI deserters at the bottom has corrupted some South Vietnamese officials, congressional investigators have been told.

The investigations committee, headed by Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., also heard testimony Tuesday that millions of dollars from the illegal operation end up in U.S. banks.

Robert Parker, an official at the U.S. embassy in Saigon, said the Indians "constitute a syndicate in the most criminal and sinister sense of the word."

"The presence of this well known group of Indian currency violators, operating openly, weakens the morale of more dedicated Vietnamese law enforcement officials, makes corruption seem easy and encourages others to share in the black market profits themselves," Parker said.

He said many GIs have dealt with the money dealers who give up to 240 South Vietnamese piasters for a dollar instead of the legal rate of 118-to-1.

American deserters often sell their citizenship and contacts in the U.S. military to the syndicate, Parker indicated.

But Parker characterized the GI as "a small player in a game with million-dollar stakes."

Parker said the racket has generated more than $150 million annually in illegal funds.

Committee investigators have traced illegal funds to 13 accounts in banks in Hong Kong and the United States.

Abel Is Speaker At GE Union Rally

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Some 1,000 persons are expected to turn out tonight to hear United Steelworkers Union President I. W. Abel speak in support of striking General Electric Co. workers.

Abel will be representing AFL-CIO President George Meany, who has pledged to raise $13 million for a war chest for the GE workers.

Conrad And Bean Plan Space Hike During 2nd Walk

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Like explorers on earth, Apollo 12 astronauts Charles Conrad Jr. and Alan L. Bean plan to take a knapsack early Thursday when they hike to the Surveyor 3 spacecraft during their second stroll on the moon.

Scheduled to begin at 12:37 a.m. EST with Conrad exiting the Intrepid landing craft, the trek to Surveyor's location 150 feet down the slope of a lunar crater is to be a slow one—carefully collecting rocks en route and taking care not to slip when standing on the 15-degree crater slope.

Altogether, Conrad planned to be outside 3 hours, 20 minutes during Apollo 12's second excursion, with Bean walking around 3 hours, 2 minutes.

After Conrad backs out the hatch on his hands and knees and descends to the lunar surface, Bean is to use a clothesline-like conveyor belt to transfer two 70 millimeter cameras and film to him.

Bean then is to climb down the ladder as Conrad takes from a storage bin tools, two rock storage bags and a knapsack to hold the tools. He is to attach one rock bag to Bean's side, then Bean attaches a similar bag to Conrad.

The knapsack, containing long-handled bolt cutters to snip off pieces of Surveyor, is to be attached to Conrad's backpack.

The astronauts will gather interesting rocks, first documenting with photographs each stone's position before picking it up.

Snow Postpones Airplane Trip For 88-Year-Old

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Rain and snow today caused postponement of the first airplane ride for a woman who said she sewed cloth for the wings on some Wright brothers airplanes.

Miss Ida Holdgreave, 88, was scheduled to make the trip in a twin-engine plane owned by T. O. Matheus, general manager of the Inland Division of General Motors here.

Matheus said if weather permits the sight-seeing trip would be made Friday.

Matheus' associates said Miss Holdgreave had never been on an airplane ride but had long wanted to take one.

The culprit most likely secreted the animal into a pocket and then walked out of the zoo, said officials.

Police were on the alert for disorders, and the unions set up a special volunteer corps in an effort to keep the demonstrations peaceful.

Traffic was light in the cities, with most stores and offices closed. Most restaurants also were shut, and telephone, gas and water services were reduced.

The general strike is the climax of an autumn of labor unrest, with disorders in Turin, Milan, Naples and a score of other cities. Maoist groups have led raids on factories and offices, and there have been repeated bombings at the Fiat auto plant in Turin and elsewhere.

Astronauts Hit Bullseye On Lunar Surface

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Two super-charged American astronauts made a bull's-eye landing on the moon today, raised their flag and wisely-cracked their way through a four-hour exploration of the black, powdery surface.

Before returning safely to their lunar ferry Intrepid, they deployed five scientific instruments powered by the first nuclear generator on the moon.

In landing on the Ocean of Storms, Charles "Pete" Conrad Jr. and Alan L. Bean carried man's quest for the unknown to that alien soil a second time. They opened a new age of discovery, the first detailed exploration of the moon.

Their moonwalk was spoiled for earthlings when a camera transmitting the first color television pictures for the moon failed after 45 minutes. Experts at the Manned Spacecraft Center theorized the camera was accidentally pointed at the sun—burning the sensitive image tube.

There was little hope it could be repaired.

From the moment they landed on the moon and Conrad shouted "Outstanding!" and Bean exclaimed "I can't wait to get outside!"

They were two jubilant men, chattering like a couple of chipmunks as they went about the important business of exploring the strange world where the gravity force is only one-sixth that on earth.

There was excitement in Conrad's voice when he spotted an unmanned Surveyor spacecraft resting only 600 feet away in the crater that had been their target for the pinpoint landing.

Both men were exuberant as they gathered rocks and spotted strange mounds of rubble that they described as "fantastic." Conrad's cackling laugh became a familiar sound.

"Wowee" was a favorite expression as Conrad and Bean probed the surface, ranging more than 1,000 feet to set up the experiments and to inspect the mounds and what appeared to them to be a fresh crater.

"Hey, look at that rock," or "Here's a neat looking one over here," flowed repeatedly over the communication channel more than a quarter-million miles back to earth.

They hope to walk to the Surveyor and retrieve parts of it during a second outside excursion scheduled to start at 12:32 a.m. Thursday. They also hope to have the television camera

Italy Hit By Strike Over Housing

ROME (AP) — An estimated 12 million to 15 million workers stayed away from their jobs across Italy today in a 24-hour general strike for more low-cost housing.

Italy's third general strike in less than ten months brought buses, streetcars, commerce and industry to a virtual standstill. It was estimated the strike would cost employers $80 million in lost wages and the nation twice that in lost production.

A bright sunny day sent many families to the countryside for picnics, to the mountains or to the beaches.

The big three labor unions called for mass demonstrations to drive home their demand for a new government housing policy. Political extremists of both the left and right threatened to turn the demonstrations into battles.

Police were on the alert for disorders, and the unions set up a special volunteer corps in an effort to keep the demonstrations peaceful.

Traffic was light in the cities, with most stores and offices closed. Most restaurants also were shut, and telephone, gas and water services were reduced.

The general strike is the climax of an autumn of labor unrest, with disorders in Turin, Milan, Naples and a score of other cities. Maoist groups have led raids on factories and offices, and there have been repeated bombings at the Fiat auto plant in Turin and elsewhere.

Routine Nursing Home Care Not Covered By Medicare

"Medicare does not pay for routine nursing home care," Robert M. Martin, Social Security district manager at Chillicothe explained recently.

Only limited coverage for full-time skilled nursing care and other health services provided in the nursing home can be paid for under Medicare. Many people believe that Medicare pays up to 100 days of nursing home services under any circumstances.

This is not accurate. Medicare legislation specifies that only a certain kind of nursing home care can be paid for under present provisions. This is the type in which the patient's condition, requires him to be in an institution for the primary purpose of receiving continuous skilled nursing services, for a period immediately after discharge from a hospital.

Actually, a nursing home that qualifies to give this service is called an "Extended Care Facility." Services in such a facility are really an extension of the kind of service the patient was receiving in a hospital for injury or illness. The Social Security Administration is now working with its insurance intermediaries to examine more closely Medicare claims for nursing home care after hospitalization.

"Many of these claims may be denied," Mr. Martin indicated. "It is important that elderly people and their families understand how this part of the law works," he said.

The district office at 606 Central Center, Chillicothe will be glad to answer questions concerning Extended Care Facilities, or any other provisions of the Medicare law. The office is open Monday through Friday (holidays excepted) from 8:45 a.m. to 4:45 p.m.

Site Selected For $2 Million Medical Center

A 270-acre farm at the junction of U.S. Route 23 and Ohio 159 will be the site of the new Ross County Medical Center.

Voters approved the proposed $2 million center in the Nov. 4 election by giving support to an 8-mill bond levy to finance the project.

Chillicothe Hospital Board of Trustees voted unanimously to purchase the McConnell site on which they had taken a six-month option in September.

Following recommendation of the Ross County Medical Society, the hospital board considered and investigated other sites before making a final decision. "The decision on the McConnell farm was made with the future of the medical center in mind. The board has tried to select a site that will serve Ross County many years to come," said C. D. Coates, board president.

"No site will be perfect but the McConnell site is ample in acreage, fine for access and does not have insoluble problems."

Consideration was given to access, county picture, price (regarded as reasonably priced at $1,000 per acre) water supply, sewage disposal and flooding.

Jury Decides Turkey Case

After over two hours of deliberation, a jury reached a decision on the money suit involving Allen K. Hoover, Circleville and Roger B. Stephenson, Pompano Beach, Fla. in Common Pleas Court.

The jury retired at 4:45 p.m. Tuesday and returned two and one half hours later to award Hoover $16,105.71 plus interest for expenses he incurred on a turkey-growing agreement between the two men. The decision was unanimously approved by the 12 members.

Seated on the jury were: Marilyn Mader, Dorothy Berger, Albert Cornelius, foreman; Helen Cummins; William Walker; Arlene Pollag; Charles Hix; Elpha Wilson; Paul Woodward; Martha Purcell, Carroll Reid and Frank Dunlap.

Car Hits Tree; Driver Cited

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department investigated a one car accident at 12:55 a.m. Wednesday on State Route 56 west of Laurelvale.

Larry D. Winland, 18, of Laurelvale, told Deputy Don Thompson he was eastbound on Route 56 when he lost control of his car.

The car skidded into a tree and came to rest on a creek bank.

Winland suffered a lip injury and was referred to his doctor.

Thompson cited Winland for reckless operation of a vehicle.

Three Receive Fines In Court

Arthur E. Wolford, 22, of 430 John St., appeared in Municipal Court Wednesday on charges of an unsafe load. He was cited by Highway Patrolman F. M. Summers, when roofing nails spilled from the back of his truck onto the highway. He was fined $10 and costs.

Randall Lee Arledge, Pontious Lane, appeared on two charges. He was cited by Police Patrolman Jack Mills for intoxication and resisting arrest. He was fined $25 for the first offense and $50 for the second.

Allen E. Davis, 28, of 435 Avon Drive, was cited by Police Patrolman Francis for reckless operation and driving left of center, striking a parked car. He received a $50 fine and had his license suspended for one year.

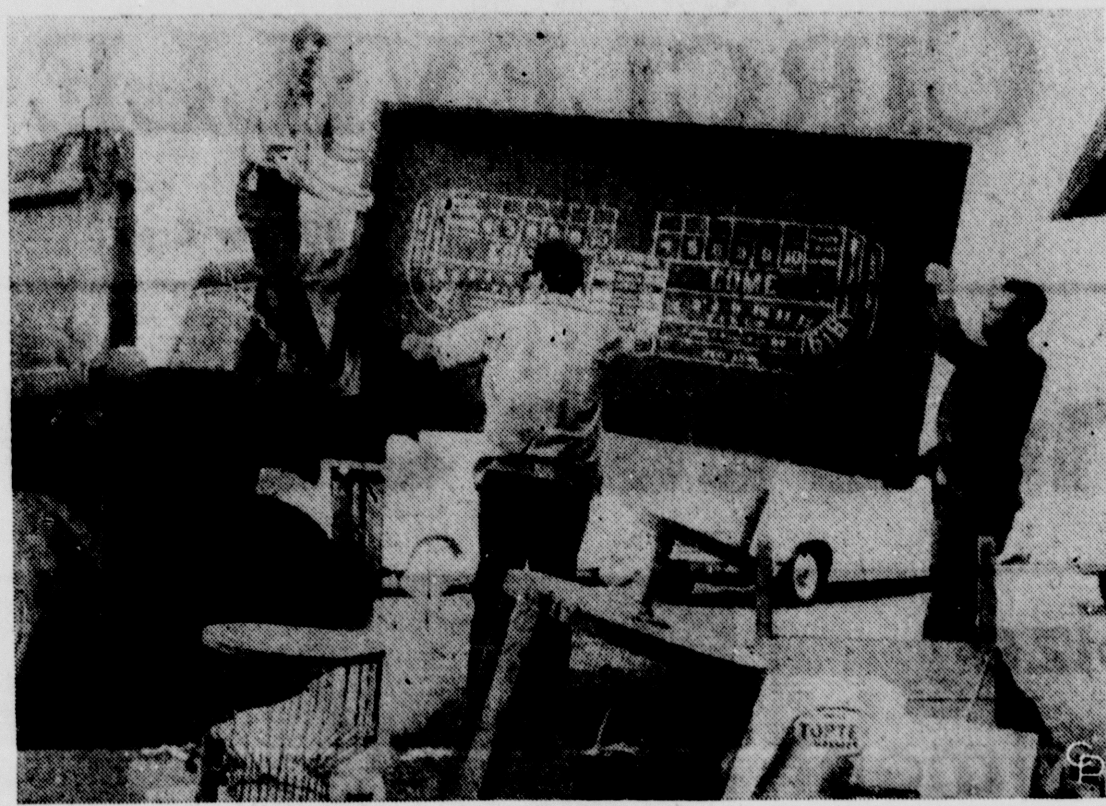

Julian Simon was bound over to the grand jury today by Judge Sterling Lamb on charges of auto theft. Simon is under $2,500 bond and is presently being held in the Pickaway County jail.

Bond forfeitures in court today totaled $120 on four citations issued by the Highway Patrol and one by city police.

Williamsport Church Plans Revival

A revival will be conducted at the Williamsport Church of Christ in Christian Union Nov. 20-30. It will be open to the public.

Plan Rites Of 'Spiritual Joy' For Late Joseph Kennedy

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)

A funeral Mass with a theme of spiritual joy will be offered Thursday for Joseph P. Kennedy in the small clapboard church where the Kennedys have worshipped for years.

The 81-year-old former ambassador, father of President John F. Kennedy and patriarch of one of the nation's most famous political families, died Tuesday at his Cape Cod home.

He had been in poor health since suffering a stroke eight years ago. Last Saturday he had another stroke. He grew progressively weaker, slipping into a coma Monday.

Members of the family attended a special Mass offered Tuesday night by the Rev. John J. Cavanaugh at St. Francis Xavier church in Hyannis. Father Cavanaugh is a long-time friend of the Kennedys. A former president of Notre Dame University, he is now chaplain at St. Mary's College in Indiana.

Thursday's 9 a.m. funeral Mass will be offered in the same church. Kennedy's close friend, Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston, will be the celebrant. He will be assisted by the Rev. Joseph Maguire, a member of the cardinal's staff, and the Rev. Joseph Fitzgerald, a nephew of Mrs. Kennedy.

Only the family and close friends will attend. There will be no wake.

The white funeral Mass will be a departure from Roman Catholic tradition. The Mass is called white because the clergy will wear white vestments instead of purple or black. In accordance with precepts that have been emphasized since the Second Vatican Council, the accent will be on the message of resurrection and joy after death rather than mourning.

Following the Mass, a hearse will carry the body to the family plot at Holyhood Cemetery in Brookline, a town bordering Boston where the Kennedys lived for years.

Kennedy's six oldest grandchildren will be honorary pallbearers.

At Kennedy's bedside when he died at 11:05 a.m. EST Tuesday were Rose, his wife of 55 years, and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., the last of his four sons.

With them were other members of the family including the widows of his two assassinated sons—Ethel Kennedy, widow of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, and Jacqueline Onassis, who was President Kennedy's wife.

President Nixon expressed sympathy and praised the elder Kennedy for his "strong sense of dedication to the nation."

In a Washington statement, the President said, "He enjoyed with grace the triumphs of his life and he endured its tragedies with great dignity; and surely he also felt great satisfaction in his own and his family's service and accomplishment."

School Bond Levy Among Business Of TV Board

Monetary policies and funds were the main subjects under discussion at the regular meeting of the Teays Valley Board of Education Monday.

Members of the board voted to re-submit the school improvement bond levy to voters in the May primary next year. The exact millage and total cost will be determined at the next board meeting. Approval was also given to a resolution accepting the amounts and rates determined by the Budget Commission and authorizing necessary tax levies and certifying them to the county auditor.

Highway Patrol Captures Runaway

Ptl. E. G. Moore of the Ohio State Highway Patrol announced the capture of an escapee of the Herbert Christian Youth Camp, Columbus, Wednesday.

Ptl. Moore spotted the 17-year-old youth hitch hiking just south of South Bloomfield at 10:30 a.m. this morning. He was picked up and is being held at the post, awaiting authorities from the youth camp.

Saw Stolen

Willard Cook, 519 E. Mound St., reported to Circleville Police that a 7 1/2-inch circular saw had been stolen.

Astronauts . . .

The nuclear generator worked perfectly, and the instruments began sending data to earth as soon as the unit was turned on.

After collecting a few rock samples, raising the flag and deploying the nuclear-powered instruments, Conrad and Bean climbed back into Intrepid's cabin to rest for the second excursion Thursday.

Before returning to the cabin they brushed off layers of the dark powder that clung to them.

The moonwalkers originally were to have stayed outside about 3 1/2 hours. With their oxygen supply holding well, Mission Control told them to remain out an extra half an hour and instructed them to collect samples from the rim of a nearby crater.

Conrad and Bean reported the dust in the Ocean of Storms was thicker and blacker than that in the Sea of Tranquillity where the first moon explorers landed in July.

"Your boots dig into the soil quite a bit," Bean said. "If you don't pick up your feet you really kick a load of dirt in front of you."

They roamed several hundred feet from Intrepid to explore and to set up a set of five sophisticated scientific instruments to measure such things as the solar wind, moonquakes and the moon's atmosphere and ionosphere.

To power the instruments they implanted the first nuclear generator on the surface, a unit which required delicate handling because of its hot radioactive element.

The camera did record the first steps of both on the powdery surface. Commander Conrad's first words as he placed his 13-inch boot in the soil were: "That may have been a small one for Neil, but that's a long one for me."

He referred jokingly to Neil Armstrong's first words last July when he became the first man to step on the moon: "That's one small step for a man, one giant leap for mankind."

While ground experts studied the problem, the astronauts abandoned the camera to continue their exploration.

The third member of the expedition, Richard F. Gordon Jr., orbited some 65 miles overhead, awaiting the return of his companions on Thursday after they complete 3 1/2 hours on the surface.

They were overjoyed at the landing spot, as they wondered at a variety of geological formations surrounding them.

"We couldn't have picked a better spot," Conrad reported. "We could play geologists all day and we would get no farther than we are now."

The commander noted a strange-looking mound, and commented excitedly: "I've got to photograph this thing. I can't imagine what it is. There's this big mound sticking up about 300 feet at the foot of a shallow crater on the right-hand edge of the head crater. This is fantastic."

He later reported it looked like a small volcanic formation.

Twice they used a hammer to solve minor problems.

When Bean had trouble driving a tube into the ground to collect a soil sample from beneath the surface, he pounded it with a hammer.

"That's skilled craftsmanship," he quipped.

Later, he had difficulty removing a canister containing the radioactive element, Plutonium-238, from a protective cask.

"It seems swollen in there and friction is holding it in," Bean reported. "I don't want to pull too hard because it's a very delicate mechanism. Come out of there you rascal."

"I've got a better idea," Conrad said. "I'll get the hammer."

That did the trick.

"We got it babe," Conrad told the ground.

If the canister had not come free, one of the major goals of the flight would have failed. Without the nuclear generator, the five scientific instruments would not work.

The astronauts reported initial trouble walking on the moon, but they soon became accustomed to their strange environment on which the gravity pull is one-sixth that on earth.

In a world where temperatures vary some 500 degrees, from 243 degrees above zero in sunlight to 279 below in shadow, the spacemen were comfortable in their thick water-cooled suits.

Conrad was first on the surface at 6:44 a.m., nearly five hours after the pinpoint landing, which NASA officials hailed, saying it opened the way for future Apollo crews to attempt risky descents into difficult areas like mountains and the inside of craters.

Conrad . . .

The astronauts will pick up the samples with long-handled tongs, place them in small numbered plastic bags, then put them in the bags attached to their sides.

At one point, the astronauts will dig a shallow trench in the soil and collect dirt from the bottom of the trench.

After reaching the edge of Surveyor 3's crater, Conrad and Bean will attach a 30-foot safety line to one another, then Bean will carefully descend the slope.

If keeping his footing is not a problem, the safety line will be discarded and both spacemen will ease down the slope to Surveyor.

First they will take photographs of the area, so scientists can compare them with pictures televised by the robot after it landed 32 months ago to see if erosion occurs on the moon.

Using the bolt cutter, Conrad then plans to snip off a piece of cable attached to Surveyor's TV camera, the camera itself, a piece of aluminum tubing, and a section of glass. After each piece is severed, he will hand it to Bean who will stow it in Conrad's knapsack. The parts will tell engineers how well man-made materials wear on the moon.

They will then head back to the Intrepid lander craft, stopping for rocks en route.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — There just isn't enough money to go around these days.

This week the East Chicago Sanitary District will try to raise $17 million by selling bonds. The Commonwealth of Puerto Rico will be seeking $50 million for schools, and Pacific Gas & Electric Co. will be after $80 million.

This is just a sampling of the need for funds. Municipalities alone will try to raise more than $1 billion this week in order to rebuild slums, expand sanitation facilities, improve highways.

Will they get it? Perhaps not all of them will. The bankers who purchase these bonds and then try to resell them at a profit already are holding $100 million from last week. They don't particularly like their prospects.

Those who do get the money will be paying the highest interest rates of this century. The prime lending rate is 8.5 percent, meaning that the very best Triple A rated customers can't hope to pay much less.

If you had mentioned an 8.5 percent rate to a large business or municipal borrower a year or two ago he would have gagged or maybe he would have thought you mad. But this rate is paid willingly these days.

The tightening money situation, some bankers fear, is going to be with us for a long, long time. Tremendous demands have built up for funds at the very time that the Federal Reserve is tightening the supply.

The Fed, of course, is not malicious in its intentions, although you won't get some businessmen to believe that is so. Its avowed purpose is to keep individuals, businesses and governments from overextending themselves.

By making me tight, or hard to come by, the monetary leaders help to push up interest rates. This, in theory, should discourage borrowers, and to some extent it has done so. But obviously a tremendous demand remains.

Some businesses, such as utilities and telephone companies, have little choice but to continue borrowing, for they must constantly add to their facilities in order to accommodate a larger and more demanding populace. The Bell System, for example, has borrowed more than $1 billion this year.

Equally pressing is the need of growing municipalities for more public facilities. Much of America has fallen behind in its responsibilities. Cities and towns always have built schools, but for years they neglected to build sewers. Now that water supplies are becoming polluted they are forced to act.

They failed also to do much about their slums, and now a social upheaval in the neglected areas of cities is forcing officials to get with it, to delay no longer. And so they must borrow money.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

SHORTLY AFTER one of Producer David Merrick's rare failures closed after a disastrous tryout in Boston, he was stopped by a lady selling raffle tickets who begged, "Won't you take a chance on a turkey?" Merrick assured her sadly, "I just did."

The late Tallulah Bankhead, bless her, was a remarkable woman, as beautiful as she was talented, with a devastating if somewhat wayward sense of humor. She was one of the few people able to reduce Alec Woolcott to a stammering adolescent. "I've studied you from every angle, Alec," she told him once, "and I've decided that there's a lot less of you than meets the eye." Another time, Woolcott sought to catch her off-guard by calling upon her without warning to address a dinner party that included the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, and other society big-wigs. "I have nothing to say at the moment," began Tallulah, "so I believe I'll amuse you with a few acrobatics." She thereupon did a series of cartwheels—her costume flying in all directions—and landed in Mr. Woolcott's lap.

QUICKIES: Henny Youngman has a brother-in-law who, to hear him tell it, is so quiet and mousey that his sisters collected life insurance on him twice. "When a woman subtracts years from her age," Joey Adams points out, "they never are lost. They merely are added to the age of her girl friends."

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

If high cholesterol causes arteriosclerosis the arteries be opened if the diet is changed at my age of 64?

Mr. R. W., Florida: Dear Mr. W.: It is felt by most doctors and scientists that there is a definite relationship between high cholesterol in the blood and the development of earlier and perhaps more extensive narrowing of the arteries due to arteriosclerosis. There are many other complicated chemical processes in the body that are also responsible for these changes.

It is an established fact that foods containing large amounts of animal fat and dairy products, tend to increase the level of cholesterol in the blood. It is for this reason that there is a tendency to avoid fatty meats such as bacon and ham and to limit butter and cheese.

Vegetable fats such as corn oil are low in cholesterol and are used in addition with lean beef, fish, chicken, fruits and gelatins to keep the blood level of cholesterol low.

Unfortunately, the process of hardening of the arteries and narrowing is not easily reversed after a lifetime of living on a diet filled with fatty foods. Young people are encouraged to start such diets early so that these changes in the blood vessels can be reduced in their later years.

Is surgery the only method of treatment for an over-active thyroid? I have been told I have a "toxic goiter" and I am fearful of the meaning of the word toxic.

Mrs. T. L. B., Oregon: Dear Mrs. B.: Let me first tell you what is meant by a toxic goiter and allay your anxiety. It is true that the word toxic carries the suggestion of poison but in medical use this need not have such a frightening meaning. There are two types of goiter, or enlargement of the thyroid gland. One, the non-toxic type, may be due to a lack of iodine in the water and may cause little or no changes in the functioning of the body.

The second, the toxic goiter, is related to over-activity of the entire gland and may be responsible for symptoms such as profuse sweating, palpitation of the heart, loss of weight and general nervousness. Let me immediately put at rest the readers who say, "this is exactly what I have." Too often symptoms are similar but causes are different.

Surgery is not the only method of treatment for hyperthyroidism, or overactivity of the thyroid. There are now many excellent medications which can control such overactivity and bring it down to a normal level. Radioactive substances are used in conjunction with the newer drugs to control the amount of thyroid hormone that is produced by the gland.

Only when all these methods fail and the symptoms continue, is surgery considered. It is safe and the results can be very gratifying.

What foods are high in Vitamin A and C? Can they prevent winter colds?

Mr. O. E., Michigan: Dear Mr. O.: Proper nourishment rather than high vitamin content is important to body resistance in the prevention of infection. Butter, eggs, liver, fish, green and yellow vegetables are high in Vitamin A. Vitamin C is high in citrus fruits, cabbage and tomatoes.

Central Press Writer: Those legislators up on Capitol Hill have found a new, fine way to make this Merry Christmas merrier than ever — by making it a safer one, too. Congress voted to put a ban on the sale of dangerous toys.

The move, aimed at innocent looking but hazardous playthings, is in the true spirit of the Yuletide season.

An Anti-Pollution Crusade

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Senator Gaylord Nelson, Wisconsin Democrat, who has put some excellent anti-DDT bills into the Congressional hopper, wants our college students to rally around the anti-pollution flag as their next major demonstration and teaching project. Some students organizations have promised to get going on "the environmental question" by next spring, presumably after a winter of marching against the Vietnam War. I happen to think the Moratorium demonstrations are an abomination; they merely encourage Hanoi to hang on in hopes of getting a cheap political victory in South Vietnam. But I am all for seeing student power get behind the crusade to clean up the landscape, to save our air, and to decontaminate our lakes and streams.

My only criticism of the Gaylord Nelson project is that it is so slow in getting off the mark. And, before the students take to marching against the use of DDT and the failure of Detroit to come up with a universally applicable anti-smog device for automobiles, why don't the boys and girls pay a little attention to what they themselves are doing to foul up the landscape?

Item One: They want a more beautiful America. But how can anyone trust their esthetic standards when they dress like Halloween hoodlums of a generation ago? I don't mind current hair styles; in fact, it is rather amusing to walk around in a world that is like a pastiche of the whole Nineteenth Century. In any big city one can, with a single block, encounter someone who looks like Daniel Boone coming in from a month in the Kentucky wilderness, a few unscathed survivors of Custer's Last Stand, a fugitive from the cast of Shakespeare's "Troilus and Cressida" the time it was played in Civil War costumes and wigs at the Shakespeare

Theatre in Stratford, Conn., and a dead ringer for my grandfather when he sported a luxuriant, soup strainer mustache. And, speaking of ancestors, the girls with their long tresses make me think of my grandmother denouncing bobbed heads by pronouncing sagely that "hair is a woman's crowning glory."

The only trouble with the hairy pastiche of the Nineteenth Century is that it comes with an encrustation of dirt. The boys and girls don't comb those long locks. The new convention is to be sloppy, and who can fight a convention? But how can they ever have the taste to clean up a neighborhood if they don't recognize litter when they see it on themselves?

Item Two: The boys and girls object to pollution in the air, the rivers, and the seas. They are quite properly concerned lest DDT in the diet of the American bald eagle upset the noble bird's calcium metabolism and to kill the fledgling egret before it can emerge from a paper-thin shell. The boys and girls don't want to drink milk laced with poisonous strontium-90, or eat c o h o salmon from Lake Michigan that are filled with pesticide residues. Neither, for that matter, do I.

In praising the boys and girls for their stand against factories that poison the clams and oysters and ruin the bathing by contaminating the tidal streams, I am moved to one question: why do so many of the young pollute their own bodies by indulgence in drugs?

What is the difference between hurting yourself by swallowing DDT and deranging your senses by stuff that is colloquially known as "hash," "acid," "goofers," "meth," "beanies," "speed" or even the supposedly non-habituating "boo," "tea," "grass" or "pot"? Just like DDT or any other pesticide, LSD and Methedrine are definitely pollutants, and who can be sure about marijuana? An internally freaked-out adolescent human being is no more desirable than a freaked-out, mother bald eagle. And why is it any more intelligent to get hepatitis from a dirty drug injection needle than it is to catch the same malady from a dirty oyster or clam?

I'll believe in the integrity of the young crusaders against a befouled landscape and a polluted air and water when the boys and girls begin to stress habits of personal cleanliness and stop polluting themselves with drugs. It's a case of "physician, heal thyself." And it's no excuse to say that the drinking habits of the middle-aged justify the growth of the drug culture among the young. Just as two wrongs do not make a right, two sets of stupidities do not add up to anything that can be called wisdom. Drunken parents and drugged offspring are equally deplorable.

We've all heard of the credibility gap. Well, if the young can't stop smoking reefer themselves, who will listen to them when they become self-righteous about the smoke that comes out of the Consolidated Edison stacks?

Drum Major Judy Routhahn was flanked by Earp and Head Majorette Linda Price as Doc Holliday made short work of their foes, the treacherous Clanton boys.

Local merchants offered special values on Black Cat Day, Friday the 13th.

The Stoutsville bandstand, a 90-year-old landmark for the town, was razed. The octagonal-shaped building had housed a variety of businesses, political rallies, carnivals and other social gatherings. An amazing feat of the building was that it had withstood two fires that practically destroyed downtown Stoutsville.

George L. Crites and three friends completed a 2,155 mile trip down the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers to the Gulf and finally Sarasota, Fla. in a 28-foot Owens cruiser. Crites was skipper on the 16-day voyage.

Mr. and Mrs. Thad C. Hill celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home in Stoutsville.

Winner of the Pickaway County Club golf championships were George Fuhrman and Marijan Lindhe. Runners-up in competition were Bob McFadden and Mary Carpenter.

The opening of hunting season encouraged many hunters to try their luck with the game. Reports to the city police in which three guns had been stolen, two from Circleville Hardware and one from Guy Thompson, prompted a hunt for the hunters. Sam Fyffe also reported the disappearance of his blue tick dog.

The Pickaway County Board of Visitors "heartily condemned the Circleville City Jail as a place of detention for juveniles" and recommended that use of the jail be discontinued as soon as possible. The board was a non-partisan group of prominent persons named to conduct periodic inspection tours of county institutions and make recommendations upon appearance and maintenance.

Larry Hannahs, Dave Hicks and Archie Ward were all members of the CHS grid team named to the All-South Central Ohio League team.

According To Boyle

By JOHN VINOCUR (For Hal Boyle)

PARIS (AP) — They are 68,000 strong in Paris, looking out at the world from behind a curtain parted just far enough to see who you are and what you are doing on their turf.

They are the city's concierges, women whose job as apartment building house mothers is as much a French cliché — and truism — as a beret or a glass of red wine.

Now, the old woman and the job are dying out. The president of the concierge union, grandiose called Le Syndicat les Gardiens d'Immeubles—The Building Guards Union—says 20,000 of the women will disappear over the next 10 years and not be replaced. Some 5,000 concierges are now over 75 years of age.

Letter boxes, house telephones, and a desire on the part of landlords not to pay them anymore are pushing the concierge aside.

Traditionally, she had reigned over apartment buildings from a ground-floor apartment called a loge, taking mail to tenants, holding their packages and taking out the garbage. In some cases, she has spied on visitors from behind their loge curtain, terrified subleasers with threats and trafficked in apartments with rental agencies.

Done up in a house dress, warmed by a black sweater and wool stockings and reading a copy of the gossip newspaper "Le Paris", the concierge is a standard character in French theater and literature.

Unlike American apartment house superintendents, Paris concierges don't tend to leak faucets or screw in new fuses. On their wobbly legs and in their felt slippers, many have enough trouble getting around their loges.

Concierge salaries run from about $80 to $100 a month, according to the union, but now that the women are entitled to a month's paid vacation and social security, owners of small buildings are just as happy to have them gone. Carpenters and other small businesses sometimes can be fit into their former quarters.

The union's newsletter showed the situation clearly: there were more than 100 ads placed by people seeking concierge jobs and only one employment offer — "Present yourself at Busy Bee Cleaning, 4 Cite d'Hauteville, for work as a housekeeper."

The number of concierge jobs is also, reduced every year by 200 to 300 as a result of health inspections finding their loges unfit for human habitation.

"It's a sad situation," the union president, Rene Laffon, says, "because the women are paid these famine wages. But they accept life in a rat hole because they have nowhere else to go. Our retirement home has only room for 80."

Movie Ratings

By BOB THOMAS

AP Television-Movie Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Is the movie rating system working?

The question was raised last week when a leading film industry figure attacked the rating system as a failure. Walter Reade Jr., film distributor and theater chain owner, told the National Association of Theater Owners Convention in Washington that the ratings should be repealed.

Long a critic of the rating structure, Reade declared theater owners "have renounced their personal responsibility" and compared the system to prohibition of liquor in the 1920s.

Jack Valenti, president of the Motion Picture Association, defended the rating code, which he introduced a year ago. He told the theater owners:

"Remember we censor no films for adults. We ban nothing. What we do is classify films for guidance of parents. It is a rational system, and it is working."

The classification system went into effect Nov. 1, 1968. It was the result of long debate in the motion picture industry, which had traditionally adhered to a system of presenting film entertainment suitable for all members of the family. With increased sophistication of the American public and a change in public morality, the need was felt for more outspoken material.

Valenti first instituted the designation "Suggested for Mature Audiences," which was a kind of flag indicating a film wasn't meant for the kiddies. That system didn't work, so the Producers Association inaugurated the classification system, patterned after those in other countries—England has classified films for 40 years.

Now the Code and Rating Administration of the Producers Association reviews scripts and finished films and hands down its decision in four categories: G—Suggested for general audiences.

M—Suggested for mature audiences—parental discretion advised.

R—Restricted—persons under 16-18 in some cities—not admitted unless accompanied by parent or adult guardian.

X—Persons under 16—or 18—not admitted.

Understandably, it is the X rating that has caused the biggest fuss. Valenti admits that he originally intended the X to be a "leper colony" for films of no artistic quality whatsoever. But it hasn't worked out that way.

Two of the most successful and critically acclaimed films of 1969—"Midnight Cowboy" and "Medium Cool"—ended up in the X class.

Another well-received film, "Last Summer," escaped the X only after its director, Frank Perry, agreed to cut an obscene word and part of a rape scene.

Said Perry: "There should be a difference between a 'shock X' handed out to films for the porn-house trade and an 'artistic X' for films that are trying to say something."

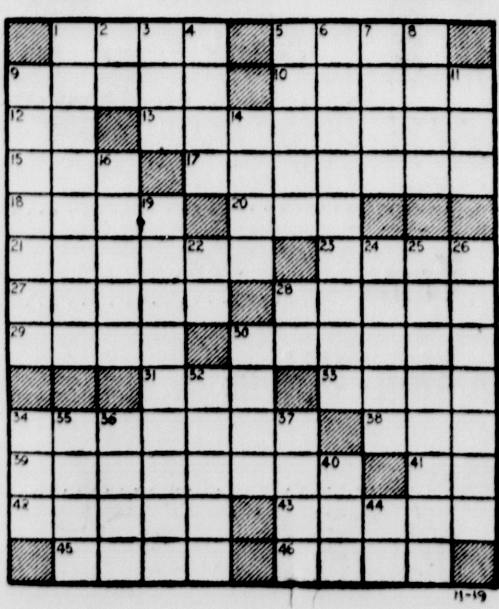

At least 36 U.S. newspapers now are banning ads and reviews of X-rated films, porno or artistic.

There can be no doubt that industry leaders are concerned about the growing newspaper ban. They may well redouble their efforts to avoid the X rating. This will mean cuts, but in most cases the removal of salacious material from serious-minded films detracts little from their effectiveness.

Hatlo's They'll Do It Every Time

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Husband Puts Sex On Time Schedule

DEAR ABBY: If you can't answer this, please don't tell me to talk to my minister or doctor because I couldn't face them with this problem.

Putting it bluntly, ever since we have been married (it's going on 9 years) my husband will have relations with me only on Saturday night. If I am in the mood on Monday, I can just forget it. Also, if I am dead tired or not in the mood on Saturday, that doesn't make any difference to him.

Outside of this one fault, he is a good husband and a better than average father to our four children, so maybe I shouldn't complain. But I want to know if this is normal in a man, or is there something wrong with him?

SATURDAY NIGHT WIFE
DEAR WIFE: One of the things that is "wrong" with your husband is his bullheadedness. Also, if he puts marital relations on a time schedule, he doesn't know the first thing about how to please a woman — or himself for that matter. And if he isn't willing to learn, shame on him. My condolences.

DEAR ABBY: I own and operate a small up-to-date neighborhood grocery store and here is my problem. We deliver, but there is one customer who comes into the store at least twice a day to buy one or maybe two items. Then she helps herself to the largest shopping bag we have. These bags cost ME 5 cents each.

The delivery boy tells me that this lady has more shopping bags in her house than we have in our store.

This isn't going to make or break me, but it is very irritating. Is there some way I can put a stop to this without appearing petty?

NEW JERSEY GROCER
DEAR GROCER: No. But since it will neither make nor break you, I advise you charge it off to the cost of doing business and forget it. An ulcer is far more irritating and infinitely more expensive.

DEAR ABBY: I have a husband who saves, collects and stores all kinds of things — large and small. Where does he store them? Right in the living room, bedroom and hallways. We literally live in a warehouse.

Everywhere you look, things are packed and piled in boxes. You wonder if we just moved in and haven't unpacked yet, or we are moving out.

If I put up a shelf for my things, right away HE loads it down with his. I once moved some of his boxes down in the basement with the help of a friend and the roof came off. That can't happen again because there's no more room down there.

I think it's like a disease with him. No woman can cure him either. I am his third wife. Now I know why the others left him.

There is no place to sit. He has the couch all covered with stuff and same for the dining room chairs. He could live his whole life sitting on a kitchen chair.

He has an oil drum in the living room and a drill press in the bedroom. Don't ask me why he's saving them.

As it is, I practically live in the car and try to get my work done in this warehouse.

If there is another wife who has solved this problem outside of divorce, I wish she would write in. Thank you, too, Abby, for listening. Very truly yours,

GOING CRAZY
DEAR GOING: You don't say how long you have lived with this pack rat, but from your letter, I would say your squirrely husband is about to strike out for the third time.

CONFIDENTIAL TO M.P.:
It's a great deal easier to forgive an enemy after you get even with him.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

LBJ Brother Tells Of Talk On Vietnam

NEW YORK (AP) — Lyndon B. Johnson told his brother of doubts about Vietnam policy over a game of dominoes in the White House, Sam Houston Johnson says.

Sam Johnson, who lived in the White House during his brother's presidency, recalls the dominoes game on "a particular night in February" 1968 in the current issue of Look magazine.

The President pondered his next domino move, then told his brother, "That's just the trouble, Sam Houston, it's always my move. And, damn it, I sometimes can't tell whether I'm making the right move or not," Sam Johnson wrote.

The President continued, Sam Johnson said, "Now take this Vietnam mess: How in the hell can anyone know for sure what's right and what's wrong, Sam? I got some of the finest brains in this country—people like Dean Rusk, Walt Rostow and Dean Acheson—making some awful strong and convincing arguments for us to stay in there and not pull out.

"Then I've got some people like George Ball and Fulbright, also intelligent men, whose motives I can't rightly distrust and telling me we've got to de-escalate or run the risk of total war. And Sam, I've got to listen to both sides."

Rusk was Johnson's secretary of state; Rostow an adviser on security problems; Acheson was President Truman's secretary of state; Ball, an undersecretary of state, and Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

As the President pondered which domino to play, Sam Johnson wrote, he said: "I've just got to choose between my opposings experts. No way of avoiding it. But I sure as hell wish I could really know what's right."

Queen Sells Yacht For $60,000

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II has sold her 34-ton yawl bloodhound for 25,000 pounds ($60,000) — more than twice the price she paid for it seven years ago.

A spokesman for her husband said the price was "very fair" because of the expensive work done on the yacht.

Nixon Wants Authority Over Tariffs

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon urged Congress today to enact what he described as modest foreign trade legislation to give him authority to make minor tariff adjustments that would permit industries to obtain easier relief from import competition.

In a special message, Nixon said he had found it in the national interest to continue a 35-year-old policy of promoting freer world trade.

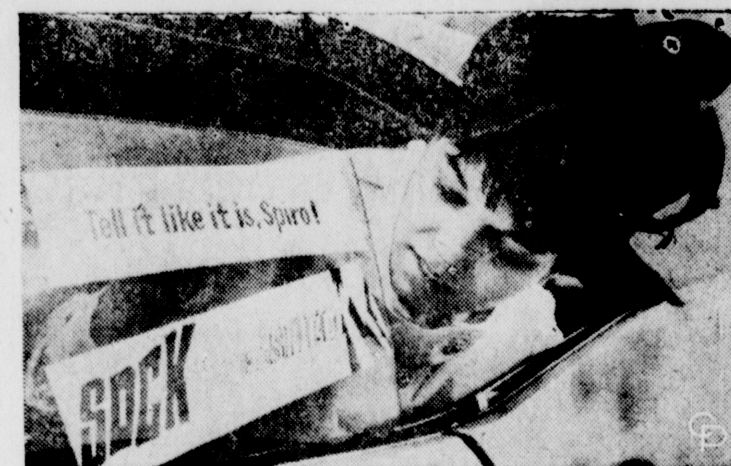

But at the same time, he recommended that U.S. industries adversely affected by imports be provided with "readier relief"—a proposal that paralleled one advanced by former President Lyndon B. Johnson but which was not acted upon.

Noting that the President has had no authority to alter tariffs for more than two years, Nixon sought authority to reduce levies by limited amounts through June 30, 1971.

"This authority is not designed to be used for major tariff negotiations," he said, "but rather to make possible minor adjustments that individual circumstances from time to time require."

While Nixon placed the emphasis on authority to reduce tariffs, he also seeks permission to raise duties in some cases.

THE SILENT MAJORITY ASSOCIATION, newly formed by four Detroit area men, is issuing bumper stickers like these supporting Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's recent speeches defending U.S. Vietnam policy. Looker is Mrs. Carol Logan.

Farm Bureau Women Hold Rural-Urban Luncheon

The Annual Rural-Urban Luncheon sponsored by the Pickaway County Farm Bureau Women's Committee was held Monday at the 4-H and Grange building with 75 members and guests attending. Mrs. John Moss Sr., chairman, introduced The Rev. Russell Hoy, speaker for the event, who gave the invocation.

Following the luncheon, Nelson Stevens, organization director, spoke briefly on subjects of interest to the members and presented Rev. Hoy for his talk.

Rev. Hoy said that we must become involved in our surroundings, enjoy nature, take time to relax, most of all have a goal in life, never be idle for there is much for each of us to do. He further said that we should plan ahead, but face each day one step at a time. He gave many examples to explain his views.

Mrs. John Moss thanked her committee for planning the meeting and announced the Farm Bureau Women's December Luncheon to be held Dec. 1 beginning 12 noon at the Wardell Party Home. Reservations are to be in the Farm Bureau office by Nov. 28. Mrs. Walter Hughes will be present to demonstrate how to make centerpieces, wall plaques and decorations for the Christmas season.

Door prizes, donated by the Farm Bureau Councils, were given at the close of the meeting.

Circleville Junior Women Tour Local DuPont Plant

The Circleville Junior Women's Club, members of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs and the General Federation of Women's Clubs, met recently at the DuPont company for a tour of the plant. Special guides for the tour were James S. McDaniel, David E. Schneider, Anthony Contino and Robert Goodman. Mr. McDaniel welcomed the club in the plant's conference room and Mr. Schneider then proceeded to explain the complete process of making Mylar, using diagrams. Samples of Mylar and their uses were on display. They included packaging for foods, polaroid film, tape for recorders and drafting film. The members of the club were divided into four groups and were provided with protective goggles and lint free coats for the duration of the tour.

The club was guided through the polymer and casting, and converting and finishing areas of the plant and also through the accounting section and front offices.

After the tour members met in the home of Mrs. David Chalmers, Knollwood Village. Goods from the Services for the Blind were on sale. Mrs. Sue

Garden Clubs Plan Show At Art Gallery

Shawnee Arranger and Pickaway County Garden Clubs, members of the Columbus Regional Council of Garden Clubs of Ohio, Inc., will participate in the Eighth Annual Holiday Flower Show on Saturday, 2:30 - 5 p.m. and Sunday, noon to 4 p.m. The show will be held in Derby Court of the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts, E. Broad St., Columbus.

The theme of the show, "Holiday Happenings," will be interpreted by flower arrangers in several classes. "To Grandmother's House We Go," "Sleighride" and "First Snow Fall."

In addition to flower arrangements in the traditional and modern styles, the exhibits will include table settings for two in keeping with the holiday season. Thanksgiving and Christmas. Also, door decorations and original gift wrappings entries.

The horticulture exhibits includes houseplants, specimen cuttings from evergreen plants and dried specimens. An artistic design section is opened to juniors through age sixteen.

With concern for education and conservation, special exhibits on bird structure, pollution, cones and pods and world gardening in South America can be viewed.

This show is open to the public and admission is free.

Add a pinch of sugar and one of nutmeg to that creamed spinach.

Five Points WCTU Plans Annual Party

Women's Christian Temperance Union of Five Points met Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Francis Furniss. Mrs. Furniss, president, opened the meeting using as her theme "A Charge To Keep." Her presentation was followed by members singing "Lead On O King Eternal."

Mrs. Arthur Winfough read Scripture from Matthew 16:24-25 and Hebrews 12:1-4, followed with meditations and prayer.

Cards of cheer were signed to be sent to Mrs. Etta Neff, Mrs. Lloyd Neff and Mrs. Harry Dick, members who were unable to attend.

Mrs. Loring Stoer, representing legislation, read "The Narcotic Concern." Mrs. Clark McCafferty read "Let's Talk About Drugs — Narcotics" representing the department of education and Mrs. Furniss read "Within A Seed" representing the department of home protection. A discussion on the subjects followed.

Pledges to the American Christian and temperance flags and the benediction closed the meeting.

The December meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Loring Stoer and will feature the annual Christmas Party and gift exchange.

Seasonal refreshments were served by Mrs. Furniss assisted by Miss Laura Long.

Thank Offering Presented At WSCS Meeting

Circle 2 of the Women's Society of Christian Service of Good Shepherd United Methodist Church was held Thursday evening in the Service Center. Attending were 14 members and three guests, Mrs. Clifford Davis and daughter, Susan, and Miss Thelma Ogan.

Circle leader, Mrs. Verneal Thomas, opened the meeting with a reading, "Thanksgiving Prayer."

Mrs. Carl Wilson, program leader, chose as her theme "Thanksgiving Street." She read Scripture from chapter 17 of St. Luke. The Thank Offering was placed on the worship center, arranged to represent both the spiritual and material things of life. As each member approached the center with her offering she told of some of the blessings she was most thankful for during the year.

Reports were presented by committee chairmen and plans made for a candy and bake sale on Dec. 13. Members were reminded to save postage stamps during the year. It was announced that several new books are being purchased for the reading circle and will be available in January.

The annual combined Christmas Meeting will be held Dec. 9 in the Service Center with a family carry-in dinner beginning 6:30 p.m. Mrs. Clarence Radcliffe closed the meeting with prayer and refreshments were served by Mrs. Marie Goodman and Mrs. Opal Leist.

CINDY BARNHILL

Miss Cindy Barnhill, 17, of 106 Park Street, has been named Co-ed correspondent for the 1969-70 school year, according to Miss Margaret Hauser, editor of CO-ED magazine.

CO-ED, published nationally by Scholastic magazines, Inc., for home economics student, contains articles on fashion, food, beauty, home furnishings, and fiction.

Miss Barnhill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Barnhill, is a senior at Circleville High School. She was elected by her classmates who are receiving CO-ED for the school year.

Selected for qualities of leadership and enthusiasm for home economics, Miss Barnhill will serve as junior adviser to CO-ED editors. Like the other Co-ed Correspondents throughout the United States and Canada, she will keep the editors informed of activities at her school.

Calabrese, Miller To Seek Office

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two Cuyahoga County Democrats announced Tuesday they would seek their party's nomination for lieutenant governor in next May's primary election.

Entering the race were State Sen. Anthony O. Calabrese of Cleveland, assistant Senate minority leader, and Ray T. Miller Jr. of Lakewood, son of the late Cuyahoga County Democratic chairman.

Calabrese, 58, a businessman, has 20 years in the Senate and has served on all important committees, including the powerful Rules Committee.

Miller, 40, was a state representative from 1953 - 59 and served in the Ohio Senate from 1959-66. He is a real estate developer.

Child Torture Case Is Heard

CINCINNATI (AP) — Kenneth Nutter of Cincinnati was to appear in municipal court today on a charge of child torture.

Juvenile authorities said Tuesday that Nutter, 30, bound his daughter, Natalie, 10, to a television and table with rope Monday night and then lashed her with a belt. Natalie was hurt but did not go to a hospital.

Laurelville News

By Mrs. Ray Poling

Services were held Wednesday in Evans Funeral Home for Clyde D. Alstadt, 77, of 930 S. Cassingham Rd., Columbus who died on Monday. He was a retired engineer for Columbia Gas Co. and a member of the Southeast Christian Church. He is survived by his wife, Vida, a son Loring of Va. and three grandchildren. He was the son of the late Marion and Ella Alstadt of Laurelville, each of whom at one time was postmaster. Burial was in the Amanda cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schroeder left Sunday to spend the winter in Punta Gorda, Fla. They will visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wharf, her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wharf and her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Pancer.

Mr. and Mrs. John Downs of Circleville, Mrs. Jane Good and Jane Ann of Lancaster were Sunday visitors of Mrs. Cliff Armstrong and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Poling.

Mr. and Mrs. David Schultz (Marlene McCabe) have moved into the former Rockford Swackhammer property on Sherman St.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Goodman of Adelphi are the parents of a son born Nov. 12 at Chillicothe Hospital. Grandmothers are Mrs. Ada Goodman of Adelphi and Mrs. Ray Poling of Laurelville.

Paul Armstrong was moved Thursday from University Hospital, Columbus, to Berger Hospital in Circleville. He is about the same at this writing.

Mrs. Hazel McNeal spent last Saturday until Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Boecher and daughter Jane and Mrs. John Canter all of Columbus.

Sunday guests of Mrs. Hazel McNeal were, Miss Jane Boecher, Mrs. Betty Ippolito both of Columbus. Also Mrs. Helen Lively of Chillicothe visited Sunday afternoon with Mrs. McNeal.

Mrs. Hugh Patterson of Adelphi and Mrs. Ray Poling visited Mrs. Larry Goodman and son at Chillicothe Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Johnston and son Mike visited last week with their son Jim who is stationed at Fort Benning, Georgia. While in Georgia they toured "The Little White House" and museum at Warm Springs. They also viewed "The Little Grand Canyon." On returning home they stopped at Galloway Gardens.

Mrs. Nixon Buys Clothes

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Richard M. Nixon has purchased a wardrobe from American designers valued at some $19,000 since her husband became president in January, according to a survey of U.S. designers.

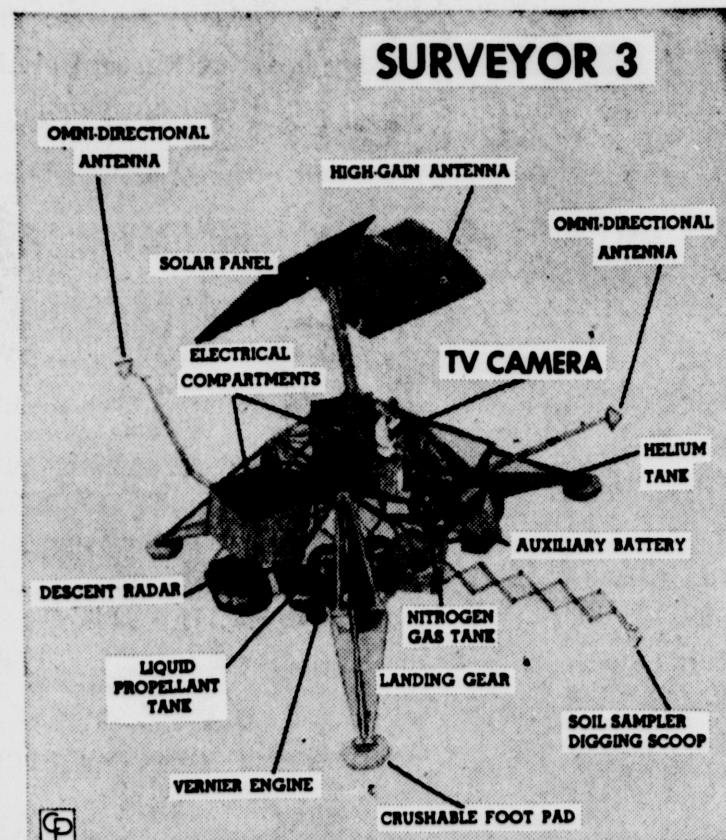

"Fitting Mrs. Nixon is a downright pleasure," said Larry Croen, vice president of Marquise of New York.

Another New York designer, Harvey Berin, says Mrs. Nixon wore a size 10 for inaugural ceremonies last January, but now takes a 6 or 8.

In Washington, a spokesman for Mrs. Nixon said the survey was inaccurate, without further explanation.

Airlines Face Tax Collections

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Deputy state tax commissioner Jerry Collins said Tuesday his department will pursue "with full resolve" the collection of $350,000 in excise taxes and penalties owed Ohio by a dozen airlines.

The airlines have refused to pay the new 4 per cent tax, contending it is unconstitutional. Collins said the airlines have 30 days to pay their taxes or appeal their assessments. If they fail to do either, the tax department could attach property of the airlines to satisfy delinquent taxes, he said.

Gordon Sails Around Moon Alone As Intrepid Leaves

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — "I can really move in here pretty good when I've got all this room," said Richard F. Gordon Jr., consoling himself as his Apollo 12 crewmates made history on the moon.

It was about his only consolation aboard the Yankee Clipper, sailing through a sea of space, waiting for Charles Conrad Jr. and Alan L. Bean to return to him from the moon.

"Quite a sight, isn't it," he had said as he watched Intrepid slip away, drifting further and further back like a leaf in a stream.

In the Clipper, a mother spaceship built for three, he sailed alone high above the moon, ready to rescue the moon explorers if necessary.

Gordon will have no way to rescue the men if they can't leave the moon, but he could descend to their aid if they were stranded in the wrong orbit after blastoff.

Conrad and Bean remembered Gordon as Intrepid slipped away toward the moon's surface after undocking.

"Yankee Clipper," Bean radioed, "I'll turn on my tracking lights for a minute. See if you see it."

"I've got it, Al. I've got your lights," Gordon said.

The lights are used in redocking.

Shortly after Conrad and Bean touched down on the moon, Gordon sent congratulations to the third and fourth men to land on an alien world and Conrad replied:

"Thank you, sir! We'll see you in 32 hours!"

Minutes later Gordon was behind the moon again, alone and out of contact with the explorers on the other side and the earth beyond.

Five Points News

By Mrs. Francis Furniss

There were 47 present at the United Methodist Sunday School service followed. The Youth Fellowship met at the Church Sunday evening with 17 members present. They plan to have their annual Christmas party on Dec. 21, and a skating party on Jan. 28. They will also sponsor a paper drive later.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Otha Lewis, Mrs. Herbert Hammel, Mrs. Herman Porter, Mrs. Clyde Michel, Mrs. Allen Folliott, Mrs. Paul Dawson, Miss Florence Long, members of Star Grange met Monday evening in the home of Master Harold Furniss to make plans for the coming year in Grange work. A pleasant and profitable evening was spent with light refreshments being served, at the close of the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Otha Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morgan, Miss Florence Long, Mrs. Francis Furniss and son Harold, Miss Laura Long, Mrs. Allen Folliott and Mrs. Paul Dawson, members of Star Grange attended the Fiftieth Anniversary of Washington Grange Tuesday evening in the Washington Twp. School. A nice program was enjoyed and a lovely social hour followed. All departed to their homes wishing Washington Grange many more years of success.

Mr. Fay Jolly of Columbus was the Monday luncheon guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clark McCafferty.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Newton of near Circleville were Tuesday afternoon guests of Mrs. Shirley Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Roberts of near London were her Friday evening guests.

Mr. Ronnie Finch of Marysville was the Friday and Saturday hunting guest of his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Finch.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Truitt and daughter Belinda of South Solon were Saturday evening guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Truitt.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Styer and daughters Becky, Cathy and Sherry of Columbus were Sunday dinner guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Loring Stoer.

Viet Peasant Tells Of U.S. Massacre

SON MY, Vietnam (AP) — "My family was eating breakfast when the Americans came. They ordered us out with the other villagers and gathered us together in three big groups. Then they shot us."

Do Chuc, a 48-year-old peasant, was telling newsmen today his version of what happened in the coastal hamlets of Tu Cung and My Lai in mid-March 1968. Chuc and others who say they survived claim that American soldiers entered the hamlets, herded the inhabitants together, killed 370 of them with rifles and machine guns, then burned their houses. But the province chief of Quang Ngai Province, Col. Ton That Khien, said again today he has doubts that the villagers are telling a completely true story.

Khien said he believed "perhaps 100" persons had been killed by allied bombs and artillery during a running fight with the Viet Cong and that the civilian deaths were accidental.

The U.S. Command reported at the time that 128 enemy were killed in a battle in the area on March 16, 1968. It said the American troops' advance was preceded by an artillery barrage and helicopter gunship raids.

Four villagers claimed today that there had been no fighting and no artillery barrage—only a few mortar rounds—on the morning they said the Americans rounded them up and shot them.

The four villagers, all of whom said they were wounded, were interviewed by American newsmen through an interpreter provided by the province chief. All told essentially the same story.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "The Wolf Men," the first in NBC's new series of nature specials, was a powerful and positive demonstration of television's powers as image builder and image changer.

After centuries as a symbol of evil and deceit—the wolf in sheep's clothing; who's afraid of the big, bad wolf; keeping the wolf from the door—the fast disappearing species was presented during the hour Tuesday as an intelligent social animal, full of affection, and a predator that kills only what it needs to eat.

The program showed the wolf in the wilds, emphasizing that the animals have been slaughtered almost to extinction in the 48 states and that there is still a $50 bounty on the 5,000 remaining in Alaska. Later, some vivid film showed hunters gunning down the creatures from the safety of an airplane. That sequence, too, created some images about humans.

Along the way, scientists and others demolished stories of fierce wolves attacking man. They run from man and if any attacked, they were rabid, said the wolf experts.

Most interesting was the portion showing wolves that have been brought up by humans. While hardly domesticated, they treated their human friends like overly affectionate, playful big dogs. But they make poor pets; are playfully destructive and cannot be house broken.

It was an especially fine program on an unusual subject.

"Run a Crooked Mile," the "World Premiere" first-run movie on NBC was a first rate suspense story. Louis Jourdan played a schoolteacher who stumbled into an international cabal to control the world gold market and witnessed a homicide.

The story spun along at a pace far faster than the usual "World Premier" and was further fortified by the urbane performance of Jourdan, a pleasant romantic subplot, handsome exteriors shot in London where the two-hour show was made and the appearance of Mary Tyler Moore as the hero's wife.

Bank Planned In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — Agreement for construction of a $20 million Federal Reserve bank building in downtown Cincinnati has been signed by Cincinnati representatives of the Federal Reserve Bank in Cleveland and the Turner Construction Co. The building will be at Fourth and Main streets.

It will have six floors above the ground and one and a half floors below the ground. There also will be a 200-car garage on five levels below a landscaped plaza.

Ground-breaking for the building is scheduled for late December and the building is to be completed by the spring of 1972.

Neil Armstrong Plane To Arrive

WAPAKONETA, Ohio (AP) — The 23-year-old single-engine airplane in which moonwalking astronaut Neil Armstrong learned to fly was expected to arrive here today.

The plane was being flown here in short hops from Tewksbury, Mass., where it was purchased by the Ohio Historical Society for display in the Neil Armstrong Museum to be built here in honor of the community's most famous native son.

Villagers Help Injured Young Man

MORO, Ill. (AP) — Residents in the area of the little town of Moro are rallying to the aid of a young neighbor who lost parts of both legs and suffered severe damage to one hand in a corn-picking machine accident.

Donald Kruse, 31, was injured Nov. 5 on his 65-acre farm near this southwest Illinois community, population 200.

The following day, about 35 farmers showed up at the Kruse farm just north of Bethalto in Madison County to bring in the corn and beans and sow wheat.

A benefit fund now totaling $2,000 is expected to grow much larger after two benefit dances and two public auctions.

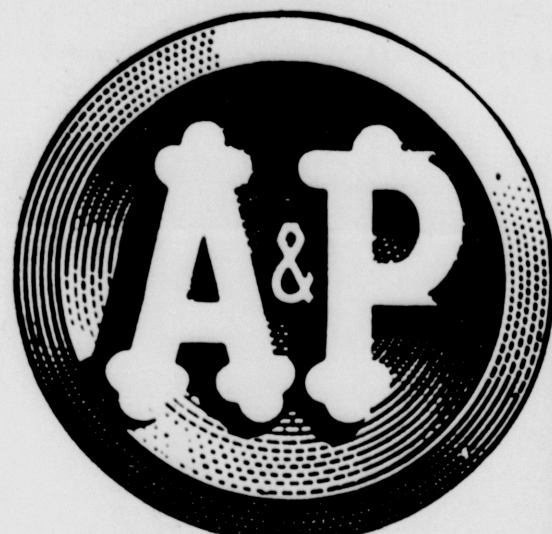

Kruse and his wife Nancy worked for 18 months to build a new home and moved into it just two months ago. They have a son, Todd, 2.

Kruse worked full time for Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. in East Alton and farmed in his spare time.

"We love those kids," said Mrs. Clint Southard, an organizer of the benefit events. So do a lot of other people.

Washington Twp. PTO

S. M. Sherna, inspection supervisor of the local DuPont plant was guest speaker for the November meeting of the Washington Township PTO.

He spoke of the many uses of Mylar in everyday life. There are 1450 people employed in the Circleville plant alone.

The sixth grade instrumental students, under the direction of Miss Martha Climer, music teacher, presented two numbers: "Doxology" and "We Gather Together".

During the business session a report was given by Carl DeBruin on the newly installed amplifying system now in use.

The December Christmas program will be presented on Dec. 11 by the music department of the school.

Payment Balance

Still Shows Deficit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans still spent more than they sold abroad during July, August and September, but the third-quarter balance of payments deficit was smaller than during April, May and June, the Commerce Department says.

The deficit was $2.5 billion during the third quarter, compared with a deficit of $3.8 billion in April-June, the department said.

Commerce officials attributed the reduction to a healthier American trade balance and a reduction in bank loans abroad.

Bids Opened On Major Road Projects

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Bids were opened by the Ohio Department of Highways today for a one-mile section of Cincinnati's Northwest Expressway (Interstate 74) between Elmore Street and an interchange with Interstate 75.

The National Engineering and Contracting Co., Strongsville, submitted the apparent low bid of $9.8 million. The state estimate was $10.1 million.

The plans for construction include a 1950-foot, 22-span structure and replacement of an existing pedestrian bridge over I-75 south of the interchange. Completion of the project is set for July 31, 1972.

P. E. Masheter, state highway director, said one section of the expressway remains to be placed under contract. Bids for this final section will be sought next April.

Bids also were opened today for a 3.2-mile section of the U.S. 23 bypass of Chillicothe. The project lies between an existing section of U.S. 35 which will be part of the bypass and the junction of Ohio 159 and existing U.S. 23 to the north.

An apparent low bid for this project of $5.4 million was submitted by Harry Miller Excavating Co. of Safford. The state estimate was $6.7 million. A final section of the bypass to the south will be open for bids next April.

The U.S. 23 sections will become a part of Corridor C of the Appalachian Development Highway System.

In another project for improving U.S. 23 in Pickaway County involving an existing rest area, Brewer & Brewer Sons of Chillicothe entered the apparent low bid of $236,448. The state estimate was $285,000.

Girl Surrenders In Embezzlement

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Carol Ann Cross, 19, Dayton, Ohio, wanted in connection with embezzlement of $1,000 from the Clifside, N.J., branch of the United National Bank where she was employed, surrendered Tuesday to the FBI.

Miss Cross, wanted for violation of the Federal Reserve Act, was ordered held in lieu of $500 bond during an appearance before U.S. Commissioner Robert McCoy.

Transportation Costs Increase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor Roger Cloud announced today that transportation costs for Ohio's schools, including parochial schools, reached an all-time high of nearly $50 million during the 1968 calendar year.

The actual outlay for transportation in 1968, $49,543,819, represents an increase of $6,396,786 over the sum spent in 1967. Of this increase, $3.7 million went to salary raises and $2.6 million went to cover increases in repair and maintenance costs.

The auditor's statements were based on the annual school report compiled from individual financial reports received from school board clerks in the state's 680 school districts.

14 Horses Killed In Barn Blaze

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Fourteen quarter horses, including prize studs, brook mares, yearling colts and colts in training, were destroyed Tuesday in a barn fire at the Royal Oak Farms in suburban New Rome.

Loss in the fire, the cause of which was not determined, was estimated at between $30,000 and $35,000. The barn and stock were owned by Edward E. Hendrix and his partner, Earl Lambert.

Poem By Girl Gains Attention

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — Children in 13-year-old Phyllis Goldfarb's 8th grade class here were assigned to write poetry and Phyllis, moved by Vietnam demonstrations, wrote this:

"Tho' man has traveled in space

And walked on the stark lunar face,

It fills me with sorrow

We must wait 'til tomorrow

To make Earth a tranquility base."

Wintry Cold Stings U.S. Midsection

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Wintry cold stung the midcontinent today and scattered snow from the middle Mississippi Valley to the upper Great Lakes region.

A mixture of snow and sleet accompanied the latest outbreak of arctic weather and made for occasionally hazardous driving in parts of the Midwest.

Rain preceded the cold front and soaked portions of the South and the Ohio Valley. Up to 1½ inches fell on sections of Alabama, Mississippi and Kentucky before daybreak.

Temperatures skidded near zero for the second day in a row in the northern Plains and the central Rockies. Readings in the teens ranged eastward into the central Midwest.

A frosty chill penetrated the Southwest as far as south-central Arizona.

Mild weather continued in the East, but clear skies were scarce in most of the country east of the Mississippi Valley.

Fair and generally pleasant conditions dominated the Far West.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 4 to Fargo, N.D., to 74 at both Fort Lauderdale and Miami, Fla.

Health Plan Committee Slates Meet

The Pickaway County Comprehensive Health Planning Committee will meet 8 a.m. Thursday in the dining room at Berger Hospital.

The local group, to which has been delegated the responsibility for passing on all county health projects using matching federal funds, has initiated comprehensive health planning in three areas in order to properly assess county health needs.

Sub-committees, which earlier made studies to determine what is now available in the areas of environmental health, health facilities, services and manpower are now developing plans which could fill voids in these areas.

The committee is also compiling a health directory which will show in detail what and where health services are available. This will be distributed early next year.

All meetings of the planning committee are open to interested persons and are held on the third Thursday evening of each month.

Ohio GIs Killed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two more Ohio servicemen, Army S. Sgt. Ralph R. Evilsizer of Springfield and Army Pfc. Anthony Garza of Gibsonburg, have been killed in action in Vietnam, the Defense Department reported Tuesday.

How The Weather Looks

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary for Ohio:

The mild weather of the last two days ended today.

An active cold front extending from north to south moved into western Ohio around midnight and is expected to continue eastward beyond the state late this afternoon.

Light to heavy amounts of rain occurred along and east of the front and Toledo reported over 1.50 inches in the 24-hour period before midnight and it still was raining this morning. By 6 a.m. however, the rain at Toledo was changing to snow and the temperature had fallen some 15-20 degrees down to 26.

Temperatures will fall to the low 30s after snow occurs this afternoon and some slippery driving conditions are likely to develop.

Temperatures will fall into the 20s tonight as the snow ends and changes to scattered flurries.

Gale warnings have been indicated for Lake Erie.

A few snow flurries will linger in northeastern Ohio Thursday with partly cloudy skies elsewhere over the state. Temperatures Thursday afternoon will reach only to the upper 20s or the lower 30s.

The outlook for Friday calls for partly cloudy weather with slowly moderating temperatures.

FORECASTS

OHIO — Windy and colder

tonight with snow changing to scattered flurries. Lows in the 20s. Thursday variable cloudiness and colder with snow flurries northeast.

NORTHWEST AND SOUTH-WEST OHIO — Snow changing to scattered flurries and colder tonight. Lows 20-25. Thursday variable cloudiness and colder. Highs 25-30.

NORTHEAST AND EAST-CENTRAL OHIO — Snow changing to flurries and continued windy and colder tonight. Lows in the 20s. Thursday windy and colder with snow flurries. Highs 25-30.

CENTRAL AND SOUTHEAST OHIO — Windy and colder tonight with snow changing to scattered flurries. Lows 20-25. Thursday cloudy and colder. Highs in the upper 20s or low 30s.

LAKE ERIE — Gale warnings in effect. Winds west to northwest 20-35 knots early tonight diminishing to 15-25 late tonight and Thursday. Diminishing snow flurries and a few flurries and a few snow squalls tonight.

OHIO FIVE-DAY FORECAST

Temperatures will be below normal Thursday through Monday. Highs will average in the upper 30s north and in the mid 40s south. Lows will be in the mid to upper 20s. Colder Thursday with little change thereafter. Precipitation melted will total around .25 inch as light snow about Friday and rain or snow about Sunday.

Forest Fire Under Control

SOUTH SHORE, Ky. (AP) — A forest fire in the hills near this Ohio River community was brought under control Tuesday night by smokechasers from the Kentucky Division of Forestry and local firefighters.

The fire for a time threatened the 93,000-watt transmitter of Portsmouth, Ohio radio station WPAY, located on the highest peak of the range.

Officials credited strong winds with diverting the flames from the transmitter.

OFBF Opens Annual Meet With Awards

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Farm Bureau Federation's 51st annual meeting began today with special awards to individuals and county units.

Highlights of today's program were afternoon addresses by Farm Bureau Executive Vice President C. Willard Swank and U. S. Secretary of Labor George P. Schultz.

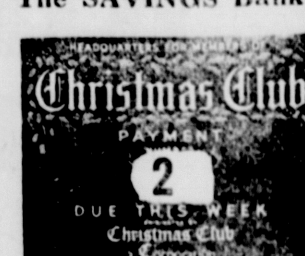

Gov. James A. Rhodes was to speak tonight.

The meeting, with more than 2,000 persons in attendance, opened at the Ohio Expositions Center but will switch to the downtown Neil House Hotel Thursday.

Meeting in conjunction with the convention are 200 farm youths from Farm Bureau youth councils.

Convention workshop sessions were to deal with topics ranging from farm income to livestock and crop problems.

Red Rocket Exploded, Magazine Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — The explosion of a huge Soviet rocket on its launch pad may have set Russian efforts to land a man on the moon back two years and crippled its manned space program, an aerospace magazine says.

Aviation Week Space Technology Magazine reported Monday the explosion last summer at Tyuratam destroyed the rocket the Soviets had intended to carry the main portion of a manned orbiting platform into space last month.

The magazine quoted Mstislav V. Keldysh, president of the Soviet Academy of Sciences, as saying the Soviet Union would concentrate its 1970 space efforts on scientific satellites orbiting the earth and unmanned planetary spacecraft.

It described the three-vessel launch by the Soviets last month as relatively unproductive, serving primarily to keep the Soviet technical team in practice.

Safety Glass Law Urged On Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Legislature will be asked when it reconvenes in January to pass a law to require safety glass in storm doors.

State Rep. George Mastic, R-52, Fairview Park said Tuesday he will introduce such legislation because of "an alarming increase" in the number of children cut by glass on broken storm doors.

Circleville's Tigers Are Ready; Basketball Season Opens Friday

Coach John Lawhorn and his Circleville Tigers are "ready to go" and it should be a very interesting basketball season.

Lawhorn in his first year as the Tiger mentor feels that he has a ball club that will make up in hustle what it lacks in height.

The Tigers lost four members of last year's "run and shoot" squad with the graduation of Dave Horst, Dave Hopkins, Phil Diehl and Mike Neal but have three lettermen back to form a nucleus of this year's team.

The Circleville High School basketball opening game will be played this Friday at the Junior High School Gym. The Tigers will face the Westfall Mustangs.

Returning to action are Ty Ankrom, senior, 6 feet 2 inches; Randy Halley, senior, 5 feet 10 inches; and Charles Jackson, senior, 6 feet 1 inch.

COACH Lawhorn feels that these three boys plus Mark Lutz, senior, 6 feet; Bryce Brown, senior, 6 feet 3 inches; Rich Blankenship, sophomore, 5 feet 11 inches; and Tom Bowers, junior, 5 feet 10 inches, will give the Tigers some depth on the squad.

These boys will be bolstered by Randy Dresbach, senior, 5 feet 9 inches; Dick Walters, senior, 6 feet; Rod Kassler, junior, 5 feet 9 inches; Jim Neal, sophomore, 5 feet 8 inches; and Don Valentine, sophomore, 5 feet 10 inches.

Lawhorn feels that he has adequate shooters on the squad and defense will be a key factor in the performance of the team.

"Our boys have shown a lot of hustle," Lawhorn stated, "and they will be a club that won't make many mistakes. They are not a team that will beat themselves.

"We are not a big ball club," Coach Lawhorn offered, "and we will have to do a good job on the boards. I have been pleased with the way our boys have been checking off on the boards and feel we can do the job."

Randy Halley was elected captain of the team by the other players and will be the floor leader.

THE Tigers have scrimmaged with East Clinton, Coach Lawhorn's old school and Greenview High and have shown to good advantage.

The league will provide some tough opposition and the outside schedule of the Tigers is just as rugged.

"We will be a better club than some people think," Coach Lawhorn said, "and we are ready to play ball."

Here is the Circleville schedule for the 1969-1970 season:

Nov. 21	Westfall at Chillicothe
Nov. 22	at Wilmington
Nov. 28	at Washington C. H.
Dec. 5	Grandview
Dec. 6	Miami Trace
Dec. 12	Teays Valley
Dec. 19	at Hillsboro
Jan. 2	Greenfield
Jan. 9	at Franklin Heights
Jan. 10	at Wilmington
Jan. 16	at Whetstone
Jan. 17	Washington C.H.
Jan. 23	at Miami Trace
Jan. 30	Hillsboro
Feb. 6	at Westfall
Feb. 7	at Greenfield
Feb. 13	Waverly
Feb. 14

CAPTAIN AND COACH — Randy Halley, elected captain of the Circleville High School basketball team by his teammates, and new head coach John Lawhorn confer during a practice session on the opening of this season this weekend. Friday the Tigers host Westfall in the Mill Street gymnasium and Saturday travel to Chillicothe.

Highlights in World of Sports

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— A pair of sophomore stars stepped into the football spotlight as the Mid-American Conference selected its final back and line-man of the week Wednesday.

Ted Grignon of Western Michigan, the back of the week, ran for 115 yards and scored twice and hit 9 of 16 passes for 124 yards and another touchdown in the Broncos' win over Northern Illinois.

Football Lettermen Honored

Lettermen of the Circleville High School football team were honored Monday night during the weekly meeting of the Circleville Kiwanis Club. They were introduced by Coach Denny Williams.

Speaker for the Evening was the Rev. Henry Walters, of the Circleville Presbyterian Church, who explained to the young football players that when they became adults they must become involved in their work and their community, but they must not neglect their family or their religion.

During the evening, the Kiwanians held a special election for one member of their Board of Directors. Elected was Forrest Croman.

Toledo split end Don Fair, the top lineman, caught six passes for 64 yards in snow and 20-degree weather as the unbeaten Rockets scored their ninth win, 20-0 over Dayton.

NEW YORK (AP) — Jarring Jim Cheyanski has repaired the nick in the Boston Patriots' armor ... and earned himself a niche in their hall of honors.

Cheyanski, heir to Boston favorite Nick Buoniconti as the Patriots' middle linebacker, intercepted a pass, recovered a fumble, helped block a punt and was credited with six solo tackles and as many assists last Sunday in a 25-14 upset victory over Cincinnati.

The second-year pro received the game ball from his teammates, and Tuesday he was named American Football League Defensive Player of the Week by The Associated Press.

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — The former Army sergeant who rose from golfing obscurity to fame in one leap, Orville Moody, was named Player of the Year Tuesday by the Professional Golfers' Association.

CHS Booster Club To Hear Lawhorn

The Circleville Booster Club will hold its regular meeting 8 p.m. tonight in the high school cafeteria.

Basketball Coach John Lawhorn will be the speaker.

Jack Nicklaus Happy Fellow After Shedding 20 Pounds

By HUBERT MIELL, Associated Press Sports Writer
MIAMI (AP)—Jack Nicklaus grabbed himself squarely by the seat of his pants.

"See, it's all gone," said the golfing great. "No more fat —." Nicklaus had clutched an excess of cloth once packed with an ample posterior. A 21-day diet did more for Jack's rear view than anything else.

"I never really liked being called Fat Jack," he admitted. "I never got mad or anything, but it's not a nice thing to have written about you all the time."

The Nicklaus waistline went down by only one inch—to a trim 34—as he shed almost 20 pounds recently, but his caboose tailed off from 47 to 42 inches.

Old pals approach Nicklaus and can't believe their eyes. His frame hasn't carried its present 190 pounds for 10 years, since Jack won the '59 U. S. Amateur at the age of 19.

His pretty wife, Barbara, didn't have any poundage to spare, but she made sacrifices and ate the same low-fat meals as Jack during the cutdown period.

Entertainer Jackie Gleason, a fellow resident of South Florida, dropped 61 pounds last summer and claimed the only problem was learning a new golf swing. Gleason said not having to swing around his tummy was a new experience that sent scores on the links up for awhile.

Lakers Top Detroit, 125-114; New York Bombs Royals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Lew Alcindor is in Milwaukee and Wilt Chamberlain is in a cast, but for Tuesday night, at least, Rick Roberson was the only center Los Angeles needed.

The 6-foot-9 rookie from the University of Cincinnati scored nine of his 19 points in overtime to spark the Los Angeles Lakers to a 125-114 overtime victory over Detroit.

Other National Basketball Association teams also worked overtime. Boston shading Phoenix 120-119 and Baltimore edging San Diego 142-138. Elsewhere, New York trounced Cincinnati 112-94. San Francisco whipped Milwaukee 127-110 and Chicago walloped Philadelphia 127-111.

Veteran Elgin Baylor chipped in with seven overtime points to help Roberson as the Lakers, who blew an 18-point lead in the final 10 minutes, outscored the Pistons 18-7 in the extra period.

Roberson threw in seven quick points to start the overtime and, after Detroit pulled to within two, Baylor netted six in a row. Baylor had 32 points and Jerry West 27 for the Lakers while Walt Bellamy dropped in 32 and Howard Komives 23 for Detroit.

The amazing Knicks pulled away from a 35-all tie in the second quarter and breezed past Cincinnati for their 13th straight win and an 18-1 record. Even the foul trouble of Willis Reed and Dave DeBusschere failed to stop the Knicks, who got 22 points from Dick Barnett, 19 from Walt Frazier and 15 from Cazzie Russell.

Second-place Baltimore's defending division champs remained six games behind the Knicks as rookie Mike Davis fired 40 points. Davis connected on 17 of 30 shots after taking over for Kevin Loughery, who suffered torn tendons in his left ankle and will be out for four weeks.

Earl Monroe and Gus Johnson chipped in with 30 points apiece while Don Kojis, Elvin Hayes and Jim Barnett all had 26 for San Diego.

The Boston Celtics overcame a five-point deficit in the final two minutes of overtime to nip Phoenix and snap a seven-game losing streak.

A three-point play by John Havlicek, who scored 41, put the Celtics ahead 118-117 with 10 seconds left and Don Nelson's two free throws wrapped it up after the Suns lost the ball.

San Francisco's Nate Thurmond gave Milwaukee's Alcindor a basketball lesson, outscoring him 26-21 and outrebounding the towering rookie from UCLA 19-15. Alcindor made only one of 10 shots in the first half and scored most of his points after the outcome was settled.

Bob Love scored 11 of his 28 points in the fourth quarter as the Bulls, who trailed by 18 in the first period, swept past the 76ers. Chet Walker, an ex-76er, paced the Bulls with 32.

Indiana Pacers Edge Rockets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The clock showed two seconds left. The score was tied 105-105 and the Indiana Pacers were flitting with a loss to the Denver Rockets, one of the losingest teams in the American Basketball Association. Enter Roger Brown.

Brown hit a field goal from the corner to make it 107-105. Then the Pacers, the defending ABA champions, scored the insurance points after the Rockets were tagged for a technical foul for taking a time out when they had none left, and won it 108-105 Tuesday night.

In the only other ABA game, Pittsburgh snapped a five-game losing streak with a 113-107 victory over Miami.

Brown had a productive final period. He scored five field goals and seven free throws to tie the rookie Spencer Haywood of Denver for scoring honors with 32 points.

The victory pushed Indiana, now 14-2, 2½ games in front or Kentucky in the Eastern Division and dropped Denver, 5-13, deeper into the cellar in the West.

Pittsburgh took a 72-70 lead over Miami late in the third period after trailing most of the game. Miami was led by Willie Murrell, who topped all scorers with 26 points. Charlie Williams pumped in 25 for Pittsburgh.

die," Nicklaus said. "My weight was back in my hips and upper legs."

Despite the weight drop, Nicklaus thinks his powerful drives are as long as ever — maybe longer.

"I was beginning to feel tired by midsummer," he said. "My feet hurt more and more. I felt I needed more sleep than I used to. It felt, all of a sudden, like I was getting old."

Jack isn't exactly ancient — he'll turn 30 in January — but his muscular legs have a lot of miles logged and "I needed to make the load a little lighter." Although he plans only one more tournament for certain, the new $100,000 Heritage Classic at Hilton Head, S.C., Nicklaus will stick to a hot schedule during the next month.

"I'm playing the Argentine Masters in Buenos Aires and then an exhibition match in Santiago, Chile," he said.

Bob Cousy Is Activated

NEW YORK (AP)—The magical, almost legendary, image of Bob Cousy is about to take on a little tarnish, and Cousy is the first to admit it. He doesn't expect to fool middle age with a behind the back pass.

"I don't think I'm going to make any important contribution," said the coach of the Cincinnati Royals after activating himself as a player Tuesday night. "We've got four young players, two of them guards, and I just hope I can influence them a little. I'm not going to cut into their playing time."

At best, the 41-year-old Cousy hopes to play no more than eight minutes in any game.

"My motive from the start was promotional. We hope my playing a bit can boost the gate and stir up some excitement among Cincinnati fans," he said.

Cousy fought for weeks for release from the Boston Celtics, who had carried him on their voluntary retired list.

The Royals finally gave in Tuesday and traded injured Bill Dinwiddie for an undisclosed draft choice and the playing rights to Cousy.

BACK TO WORK — Bobby Hull, who has missed a dozen games with the Chicago Black Hawks in a contract dispute, is ready to go back to work again. Hull's beef was not on the terms of the contract, which has three years to run, but said the Hawks had not complied with some of the terms. Hull is one of the NHL's big stars.

Defense Does Job For Detroit Lions

NEW YORK (AP) — The Detroit Lions are last in the National Football League in total offense although they have won four of their last five games so it must be that defense that is doing the job.

The Lions rank second to the Minnesota Vikings in total defense, ranking fifth against the rush and fourth against the pass. They also have dumped the enemy quarterback 34 times for 252 yards.

Dallas continues to show the way in total offense and rushing while San Francisco has averaged the most yardage with the pass. Minnesota's defense men are first in both total defense and pass defense and rank second to Dallas in rushing defense.

The first time sophomore Tommy Lowry carried the football for Auburn this season he raced 50 yards for a touchdown against Wake Forest.

Bomb Viet Reds Near Cambodia

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
SAIGON (AP) — Fifty B52 Stratofortresses dropped some 1,500 tons of bombs during the night on North Vietnamese forces threatening the Bu Prang and Duc Lap Special Forces camps along the Cambodian border.

The heaviest concentration was laid around Bu Prang, where 40 of the bombers pounded enemy positions on three sides of the camp. Some of the bombs hit only two miles from the camp perimeter.

The B52 raids followed three days of fighter-bomber strikes against North Vietnamese guns shelling Bu Prang from inside Cambodia and against enemy infantry battling with South Vietnamese soldiers around the camps. The U.S. Command said 243 North Vietnamese soldiers were killed near Bu Prang Monday, most of them by bombs, rockets and napalm from American planes.

Despite the heavy air attacks, North Vietnamese troops continued their shelling of Bu Prang. However, there were no reports of new ground fighting.

Several rounds of recoilless rifle shells and rocket-grenades fell inside the camp compound during the night. South Vietnamese infantrymen a mile southeast of the camp also came under fire.

There were no immediate reports on casualties.

Twenty miles farther south, North Vietnamese artillerymen shelled the Special Forces camp at Nhon Co, but again there was no word on casualties.

The U.S. Command also announced that the last of 43 Army Reserve and National Guard units called to active duty in May 1968 will leave Vietnam Thursday.

War Critics Want Faster Pullout

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several war critics on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee say the Nixon administration is on a withdrawal course from Vietnam, but the rate is too slow.

The senators, who gave their views after a closed meeting Tuesday with Secretary of State William P. Rogers, had a similar session scheduled today with Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird.

Sens. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark.; Frank Church, D-Idaho, and Albert Gore, D-Tenn., agreed after talking with Rogers that the withdrawal course is irreversible. They complained, however, the policy may involve leaving up to 250,000 U.S. troops in Vietnam for an indefinite period.

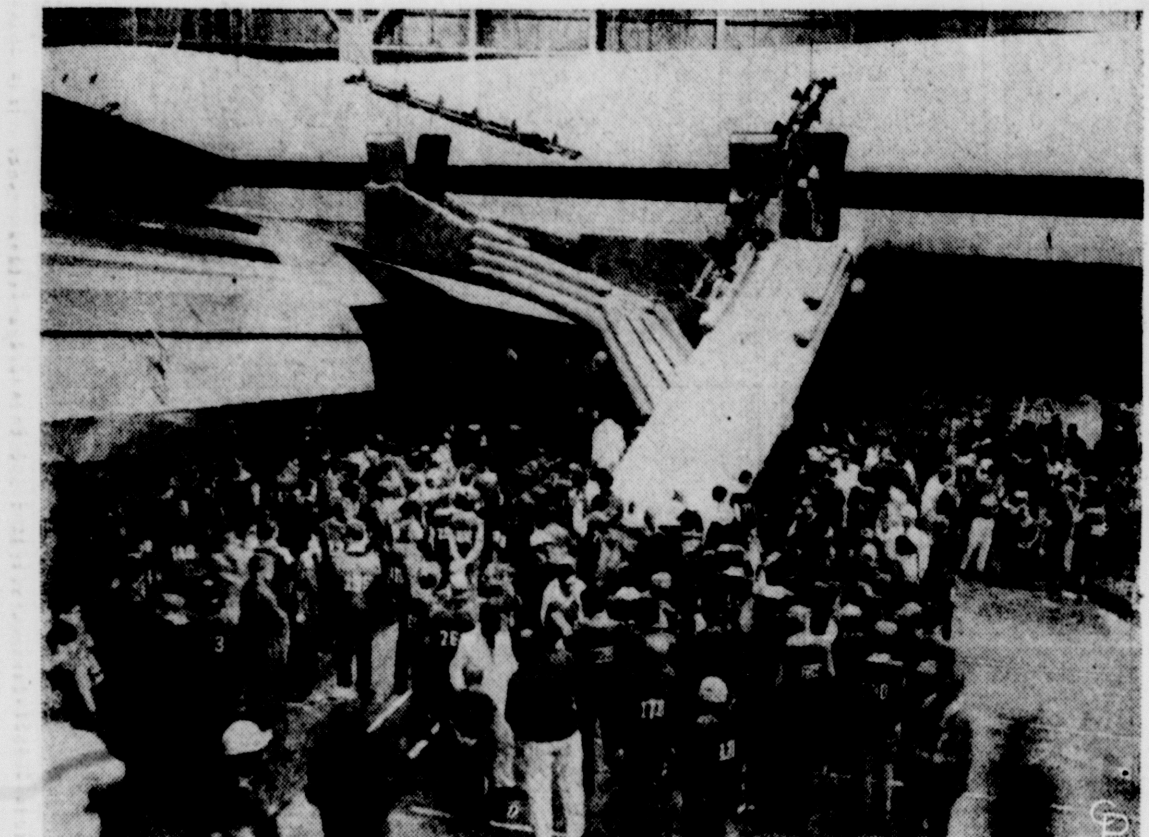

Committee Chairman Fulbright said Rogers rejected repeated demands by members for further details on President Nixon's withdrawal plans and the secret timetable for turning the war over to the South Vietnamese.

Fulbright said the committee would decide after today's meeting with Laird whether to push ahead with public hearings on Vietnam.

Rogers told the committee the United States has had "numerous diplomatic contacts" with North Vietnam, some since the September death of Ho Chi Minh, but that "it would be wrong to suggest that they have indicated any progress."

While he hopes for a positive response to Nixon's speech, the secretary added, "we see no immediate prospect for success in the negotiations."

Gore, expressing encouragement about the secret contacts, said the division between the committee and the administration is "on how to end the war."

9 Members Inducted Into Local K Of C

Nine new members received the admissions degree into the Knights of Columbus Monday night.

The initiation was held in the local council rooms of Hannan Council 5297 K of C.

The new members of the Circleville council are: Steve Stonerock, William Augustine, Lowell Rowland, Alexander Costocco, Thomas Bunt, William Burris and Raymond Cairns. Lester Sommers and Michael Wolfe received the degree into Washington C. H. Council 5386.

Guests witnessing the degree were Charles Wehner, grand knight; Bill Stahl, chancellor and Eugene Gads, past grand knight, all of Washington C. H. Council 5386.

The degree was conducted by a local team including: John Vendilinski, instructor; George Ebbrecht, secretary; Roger McConnell, grand knight; Dallas Elliott, Jr., warden, and Edward Riley and Myron Schell, guards.

During the business meeting, Grand Knight Roger McConnell urged members to participate in a corporate Communion at the 8:15 Mass Nov. 15 in St. Joseph Church.

OSU Plans ROTC Unit For Women

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Equality of the sexes received another boost at Ohio State University today.

Officials of the Air Force ROTC unit announced a new program of training for women — the first on any campus.

Coeds become eligible to compete for a commission in the women's branch of the Air Force (WAF) through the two-year advanced ROTC program previously restricted to men.

"This is a breakthrough in the training of female students," said Col. Robert P. Moody, professor of aerospace studies at OSU. He said he expected many women students to apply.

The announcement of the program represented a major change in Air Force policy, campus officials said.

Coeds accepted for training will have the opportunity to earn the gold bars of a second lieutenant while still at OSU, and upon commissioning and graduation they will serve for four years in the Air Force in non-flying capacities.

Congress Notes 4th Rhodesian Anniversary

WASHINGTON (AP) — The fourth anniversary of Rhodesian independence was observed in Congress Tuesday with several members of the House of Representatives praising the African country.

Rep. John Ashbrook, R-Ohio, who led the observance, accused the United States government of following a double standard in dealing with Rhodesia.

While boycotting Rhodesia, he said, it continues to trade with Communist nations that are supplying North Vietnam war material.

"By any standard," Ashbrook said, "Rhodesia is a fine and proper member of the community of nations and should be treated as such."

2 Men Acquitted Of Robbery Charge

CINCINNATI (AP) — A common pleas court jury acquitted two men Tuesday of charges stemming from the $1,160 robbery in June 1968 of the Aragon Savings & Loan Co.

A jury in the court had previously deadlocked on the fate of Dwight Hunter, 24, and Willie Davis, 36, both of Cincinnati, who were charged with malicious entry of a financial institution and armed robbery.

Radio Group Fights State Agency Probe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Radio Corp., contending that the Ohio Division of Securities has no authority to investigate its stock sales, asked Tuesday that the probe be halted.

Attorney Rankin M. Gibson said in a motion sent to the division that it lost jurisdiction when an Ottawa County common pleas court judge ordered suspension of Ohio Radio's sale of stock.

The state contends that Ohio Radio, headed by former Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, violated state laws by using money from the sale of stock to subsidize a faltering subsidiary, the Columbus spectator weekly newspapers.

Gibson said that on Aug. 6 he voluntarily turned the firm's stock sale certificate over to Ohio Commerce Director J. Gordon Peltier, who also heads the securities division.

Peltier accused the firm of bleeding its stock sale income of $300,000 to support the newspaper operation.

Assistant Atty. Gen. Scott Rawlings said he would study Peltier's motion before deciding whether to seek a court order to force Ohio Radio to open its records.

The firm recently sold the Spectator newspapers to Harry H. Stone of Cleveland.

Convict Siddle In Murder Trial

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — "It didn't surprise me," William Q. Siddle said of the verdict Tuesday after a common pleas court convicted him of two counts of first-degree murder.

The jury of seven men and five women did not recommend mercy, and Siddle was sentenced to die in Ohio's electric chair on March 23.

The 26-year-old Siddle was accused of killing a neighbor, Marv Laca, 49, last Feb. 22 while burglarizing her home. He pleaded innocent by reason of insanity.

Siddle showed no emotion when the jury returned its verdict after deliberating only three hours and 45 minutes. The trial lasted a month.

Families Watch Apollo

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — "We made it again," sighed Sue Bean. "Unbelievable!" exclaimed Barbara Gordon. "There they are," said Jane Conrad, pointing to the moon.

With cheers, hugs, sighs, applause and champagne, the Apollo 12 wives celebrated today America's second successful moon landing.

The families, huddling with friends and relatives and astronauts and astronauts' wives, watched television and listened as Charles "Pete" Conrad Jr. and Alan L. Bean guide their moonship Intrepid to the lunar surface.

"An all-night moon vigil," was the way Sue Bean described it, although she chose later to try for a nap between the landing and the moonwalk.

"This night belongs to Pete and Al," said a wistful Barbara Gordon.

Careless Smoking Causes Fire Death

CINCINNATI (AP) — Careless smoking has been listed by the fire prevention bureau as the cause of an apartment building fire Sunday that killed one woman and injured two other persons.

Betty Gilday, 44, former wife of prominent attorney Bernard Gilday, died in the fire that caused $25,000 damage to the fashionable multiple-unit dwelling in suburban Amberly Village.

But, at the same time, the court has said the First Amendment "requires the state to be a neutral in its relations with groups of religious believers and nonbelievers; it does not require the state to be their adversary."

The first statement is taken as support of Walz' position; the second is taken by defenders of tax exemptions as authority and justification for continuing exemptions.

Rankin told the court the same New York tax law that exempts churches and synagogues from real estate taxes also exempts other "nonprofit charitable organizations," such as hospitals, cemeteries, mental institutions and public playgrounds.

"The elimination of exemptions for church properties would be a departure from the policy of neutrality," he said.

"Exemption from taxation," he said, "permits all churches to co-exist on an equal basis."

Xavier Pushes Recruitment Of More Negroes

CINCINNATI (AP) — Xavier University, which has a small proportion of black students, has established a program to recruit more Negroes for both undergraduate and graduate classes.

The Very Rev. Paul L. O'Connor, S. J., unveiled the plan Tuesday night and said it has five main points including stepped-up Negro recruitment.

The others are appointment of additional black faculty members; additional scholarship assistance for black students; appointment of a Director of Urban and University Affairs, with special emphasis on the relationship with the nearby Avondale community, and enlargement of the existing black studies program.

Xavier, with a total daytime enrollment of nearly 5,100 has 184 black students in its graduate program and 30 in its undergraduate phase.

Nixon, Sato Open Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon and Prime Minister Eisaku Sato, opening three days of talks today on the return of Okinawa to Japan, are expected to map an important security relationship between their two nations for the coming decade.

Military honors including a 19-gun salute were on the program for the arrival of the Japanese leader and his wife at the White House for the most carefully prepared historical drama in U.S.-Japan relations since the 1951 peace treaty.

The negotiations involve the return of Okinawa to Japanese jurisdiction in 1972, the possibility of future use of the U.S. base on the island for nuclear weapons, the American and Japanese roles in Asia and trade problems.

Sato has staked his government's future on the outcome of the talks. At the outset of his five-year rule, the 68-year-old Japanese conservative leader set the recovery of Okinawa as his highest goal. The United States has occupied Okinawa since near the end of World War II.

Japan wants the Ryukyu Island chain and its one million inhabitants returned without U.S. nuclear weapons stored on the island.

Arrangements have been worked out in principle on the nuclear issue, according to informed sources, but the two leaders are meeting privately to decide how the recommendations will be carried out before making an announcement Friday.
